

FOUR WOMEN AND EIGHT MEN CHOSEN FOR HICKMAN JURY

Defense Counsel Enters Declaration It Is "Not Satisfied" After Judge
Swears in Jurors.

COURT HAD UPHELD
FURTHER QUESTIONS

State Gained Permission to Continue Challenges—
Walsh Says He Pays
Own Expenses.

The Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 30.— Jury of four women and eight men was accepted by the defense
and the State shortly before noon
for the sanity trial of William Edward Hickman, kidnaper
and killer of Marion Parker.
Judge J. J. Trabucco immediately swore the jury. The defense ended on the trial record its declaration it was "not satisfied with the jury." The acceptance of the jurors followed quickly the use of the defense of its twentieth and peremptory challenge.

The prosecution and the defense
had accepted the jurors Jan.
29. Friday, but District Attorney J. J. Keyes, at the resumption of the trial this morning, requested and received permission to use the State's remaining challenges.

Questioning of talesmen then began. The State's fifth challenge was exercised to remove a man who admitted he had a relation in the Sheriff's office.

Judge Would Speed Trial.
Refusing to permit any delay in completion of the jury, Judge Trabucco at the outset overruled defense motion for calling in scientific experts from outside the State. After the State objected, Judge Trabucco denied the defense, commenting it would only delay the trial.

Jerome K. Walsh, chief of defense counsel, told the witness to plead for his motion, without success. He declared the defendant was without funds, and that he himself was at personal expense handling the case. District Attorney Keyes inquired if a defense fund raised in Kansas City
was not paying the expenses.

"That is absolutely false," Walsh said. "I already have used $500
on a personal bank account, and have a $200 bill outstanding, none of which I expect to recover from defendant or his family."

Walsh said in suggesting the calling of three experts from outside the State, he was "accused of purely selfish motives."

Keyes Discusses Case.
Before going into court, District Attorney Keyes discussed the prosecution case with newspaper men.
The defense can go ahead and try the entire Hickman case instead of the Parker case, he said.

"They can prove
Hickman is 'peculiar,' but to satisfy California justice and law, they must prove beyond a doubt that he is or is not insane that he cannot distinguish between right and wrong."

"This atrocious murderer's careless plan for kidnapping and killing Marion Parker, his holdups,
robberies, and the whole thing, is a clear case of sane insanity," Walsh said. "I think, the best answer as to his ability to tell right from wrong."

Denies Reputation.
Walsh Saturday was quoted as declaring that the young prisoner reputedly had confessed and pleaded of "not guilty by reason of insanity" as made by Hickman did not imply an admission of guilt. Sunday night Walsh said he had been misquoted and that never he might have said in regard to the case had been conveyed so that it did not convey the intended result.

The statement accredited to Walsh, to the effect that while being interviewed by a defense attorney, the 19-year-old kidnaper had confessed the confession he had made to the police, was denied by the defense attorney as having been made by him. He said that he had not discussed the matter with anyone, nor had made any such statement.

WILLIAM E. BILHEIMER GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

Insurance Salesman and Leader
in Boys' Work Owes $113,794, Has $94,600.

William E. Bilheimer, superintendent of salesmen here for a Des Moines, Ia., life insurance company, filed a voluntary bill in bankruptcy in Federal court today. His petition showed liabilities totaling $113,794, of which $12,900
was described as secured, and assets totaling $94,600. His assets,
the petition stated, include $60,000
life insurance and $33,500 in real estate.

Bilheimer is in Des Moines. His attorney, O. E. Woods, said the losses were the result of business transactions. Bilheimer resides at 1111 Washington boulevard. A leader in boys' work here, he formerly had offices in the Railway Exchange Building.

Bilheimer promoted the purchase of the Cardinals by a syndicate of St. Louisans and made provision for the "Knot Hole Gang,"
to see the National League games
here. The "gang" is still in existence. He also was the moving force in the reorganization of the old Mercantile Club.

HITTITE TABLET, 3000 YEARS OLD, FOUND IN DEALER'S SHOP

Clay Record Deciphered by Yale Professor Probably From Near Angora, Turkey.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 30.—
The first Hittite document to be interpreted in America has been deciphered by Prof. Edgar H.
Sturtevant, noted linguist, of Yale University. It is a clay tablet, which lay buried for more than 3000 years.

The late Prof. Albert T. Clay bought it for the Yale Babylonian collection from a dealer in antiquities. Here the dealer got it is not known, but in appearance the shape of the characters and the inscription suggest it came from the village of Boghaz Keui, 90 miles east of Angora, capital of Turkey. Prof.
Sturtevant said it probably was stolen by a laborer during the excavations carried on there by the German archaeologist, Hugo Winkler, in 1907 and 1908.

MELLON OUT OF TUNE WITH DRY LAW, SENATOR DECLARES

West Virginian Uses Borah's Questionnaire to Take Shot at Securities of Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Senator Borah was asked in the Senate today by Senator Neely (Dem.)
of West Virginia, to add to his prohibition questionnaire to Republicans as to whether they favored the appointment of an ex-distiller or ex-brewer as Secretary of the Treasury.

Neely declared that Secretary Mellon had "untold millions" invested in distilleries before prohibition became effective and that "therefore he never has been and never will be in sympathy with the Eighteenth amendment and never will be enthusiastic about enforce-ing it."

Borah smiled in silence.

REJECTED SUITOR
KILLS GIRL, THEN ENDS OWN LIFE

Frank Griessler, 22, Shoots
Ella Oswald, 20, After Meeting Her at Dance
Following Old Quarrel.

GOES HOME TO GET ANOTHER WEAPON

Police Arriving to Arrest Him Hear Shot as He Uses Father's Revolver
When Own Jammed.

Unrequited love prompted Frank Griessler, 22-year-old foundry worker, to shoot and kill Miss Ella Oswald, 20-year-old factory worker, and then kill himself earlier, yesterday after they had danced together at a masked ball.

There were no witnesses to the shooting, and the two died without making statements. From circumstantial evidence police were able to reconstruct the double tragedy.

Griessler, who came here from Austria four years ago, lived at 2013 Newhouse avenue. He was a frequent visitor at the home of Miss Oswald, who lived with her parents at 2919 North Ninth street.

Last Christmas they quarreled after keeping company for five months. Miss Oswald told Griessler
she did not love him and did not care to go "steady" with him.
He became morose. He said Miss Oswald was the only girl he cared for.

Meets Girl at Public Dance.

At a public dance Saturday night
at Broadway and Deshler street
they danced together twice, but Griessler
did not appear to be having a good time. When a friend asked him if he had "made up" with the young woman, he answered: "No,
not yet—you'll hear all about it later."

In company with three young women and a young man they left the dance hall at 1:30 a. m. The group broke up at Eleventh street and Bremen avenue. Griessler continuing with Miss Oswald toward her home.

Griessler and Miss Oswald approached her home through a narrow alley. It appeared, police said, that Griessler fired once with a .38
bullet entered her right side, emerging near the shoulder. Her parents, awakened by the shot and her screams, heard her footsteps
on the porch and asked who was there. She gasped, "Ella," and col-apsed on the threshold as she opened the kitchen door. She was lifted onto a bed and died in a few minutes.

Shoots Self as Police Arrive.

Griessler apparently tried to shoot himself, but the pistol jammed.
He went to his home, four blocks away, took his father's revolver from a kitchen cabinet,
then left the house, intending, presumably, to return to the home of Miss Oswald and kill himself.

But police, notified of the shooting of Miss Oswald and suspecting Griessler, were surrounding his home to arrest him. There was a shot in the alley behind his house.
Police found him there, dead, with a bullet in the right temple. His right hand gripped his father's revolver. He was wearing a white bulwer with which he had killed himself. Under his body was his own pistol, with one cartridge discharged and another jammed.

YEARS NIPS FLORIDA CROPS

Two-Thirds of Growing Truck in Some Parts of State Reported Lost.

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 30.—About
two-thirds of many growing truck
crops in South Florida were reported killed Saturday and Sunday by the lowest temperatures in this section in 10 years.

Accurate estimates were not available today but county agricultural agents declared that growers would have to replant crops.

Unofficial records show the mercury was well below freezing
as far south as the Everglades back of Miami and in the homestead district to the south.

Seventeen degrees above zero was recorded at the plantations of the Pennsylvania Sugar Co. and attempts to start off damage by smudges and flooding fields proved unavailing.

Tomato fields in the red lands
district south of Miami suffered heavy losses with the temperatures varying from 25 to 29 degrees.

On the west coast killing frost extended as far south as St. Petersburg and Tampa. Little damage to truck crops was reported from that side of the peninsula.

SUBMARINE S-4'S SISTER SHIP
UNREPORTED SINCE SATURDAY

Lieut. P. W. Warren of Springfield, Ill., Three
Other Officers and 37 Men in S-3, Missing on Cruise to Cuba.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The submarine S-3, sister ship of the S-4, has been separated from the submarine control force en route from Hampton, Va., to Guantanamo, Cuba, and has not been heard from since last Saturday. The control force left Friday on its way to winter maneuvers.

The Navy Department was informed today that the S-3 was lost
from the rest of the force at sunset Saturday, about 100 miles south of Cape Hatteras, and had not communicated with anyone up to 2 o'clock this morning. The aircraft carrier Saratoga, the tender Camden and the seven other submarines making up the force are searching the vicinity.

The ship, commanded by Lieut.
P. W. Warren of Springfield, Ill., disappeared from view of the other vessels during a rain squall and a heavy gale.

On board are three other officers, four chief petty officers and 37 men. The S-3 was built in 1918 at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard and is 231 feet long with a beam of 22 feet. Her weight is 876 tons on the surface and 1092 tons submerged.

The exact location of the vessel which was last seen Saturday, was given as latitude 32.25 north and longitude 75.25 west. In this vicinity the ocean is about two miles deep.

Other submarines in the force,
all of which are aiding in the search, are the S-7, S-8, S-9, S-10, S-11, S-12 and S-13.

The Navy Department has ordered three light cruisers and a squadron of destroyers from Guantanamo Bay to aid in the search.

Rear Admiral Brumby, who was in charge of the rescue operations
at the scene of the S-4 disaster
off Provincetown, Mass., is in command of the control force and the message in informing the department that the S-3 was missing
came from him aboard the Camden, flagship of the force.

In announcing the fact that the ship was missing, the department said the search was being made on account of the failure of communication between the missing submarine and the other vessels of the group. "This is not unusual for small vessels during bad weather conditions, which are existing."

The S-3 is equipped with an underwater sounding oscillator and a radio transmitting and receiving set similar to that of the S-4. The power for the set is available under ordinary conditions from either the storage batteries or the generator.
The ship carries no emergency set.

Submarine officers here said
that in all probability the antenna had been carried away during the storm as often occurred under similar conditions. The opinion also was expressed that the submarine
as soon as she lost contact with the other vessels, proceeded toward her destination, unless, of course,
she had been disabled.

PLEA BY CONGRESSMAN FAILS TO IMPRESS FEDERAL JUDGE

Faris Says He Desents "Intrusion"
and Gives Postoffice Clerk 18-Month Term.

A letter from a member of Congress, presented to Judge Faris today to signify costs, postoffice
clerk who pleaded guilty of theft of special delivery letters, did not appear to mollify Judge Faris's punishment.

The clerk was arrested Oct. 11,
after postal inspectors had placed test letters in the mail. He had $75 of special delivery letters, which he admitted having taken from the letters. In making his plea, he handed the Judge a letter from Congressman E. E. Denison
of Marion, Ill., urging leniency because of the defendant's wife and child.

Judge Faris read the letter, and said, "I have not found in the Constitution any provision for Congressmen bugging in on the judiciary. Such action is intended solely to aid them in getting votes.
I resent the intrusion. Eighteen months in Leavenworth Prison."

TELLER KIDNAPED, CHICAGO
BANK ROBBED OF $35,000

Kept Prisoner in Depository All Night Waiting for the Time
Lock to Open.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—The kidnaping system of bank robbery, used for the first time in this city in Chicago, today brought four robbers $35,000.

James Dillon, teller of the Industrial State Bank of Chicago,
told police that he was held a prisoner in the bank all night while his four captors waited for the time lock in the bank vault to open at 7 a. m. The robbers escaped after looting the vault,
leaving the cashier bound and gagged
in the bank.

Dillon, 22 years old, said he was kidnaped while returning from church at noon yesterday by two men who forced him into an automobile, threatening to shoot him
if he did not open the bank and he and a Negro porter were bound
when the robbers left, he said.

COMMITTEE WILL RECOMMEND LIMIT ON POWER INQUIRY

Members as a Whole Favor Investigation of Interstate Business Only, Says Chairman Watson.

SUB-GROUP TO MAKE
REPORT TOMORROW

Lobby Proposes to Have Survey Conducted by Federal Trade Commission Instead of by Senate

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Interstate limitation of the scope of the Walsh resolution for an investigation of the electric power and utility combines was definitely indicated today at the executive meeting of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee which is redrafting the resolution. When the Committee was unable to reach any decision concerning just what limitations should be put on the investigating agency, Chairman Watson of Indiana named a subcommittee of three to study the testimony given to the Committee and report their recommendations
tomorrow afternoon.

Those named to serve on the subcommittee were Senators F. M.
Sackett (Rep.) of Kentucky, W.
B. Flint (Rep.) of Oklahoma, and Robert F. Wagner (Dem.) of New York. After the meeting, Chairman Watson stated that everything done today was purely tentative.
He declared that while no votes
were taken today, the Committee
as a whole favored limiting the proposed investigation to interstate business.

To Consider Sale of Stock.
Asked whether the phrase "interstate business" included the interstate sale of securities of operating and holding companies, Watson replied that was one of the questions, which the Committee hoped to solve tomorrow. He said the Committee had taken for granted the right of the Senate to investigate the interstate transmission of energy.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (Dem.)
of Montana, author of the resolution, was not present at the session today. He is not a member of the Committee but it is probable he will be invited to attend tomorrow's meeting.

During the hearings Walsh stated
he would be willing to have the Committee exclude from the proposed investigation all exclusively intra-state operating companies,
whose activities were not today directed or controlled by other companies.

Discards Proposed Limit.
Watson said that this proposed limitation had been discarded by the committee because it did not exclude exclusively intra-state operating companies from the proposed investigation.

Watson would make no prediction concerning the final form of the resolution. He also refused to comment on the possibility that the Federal Trade Commission, rather than a special Senate committee
of five, might make the investigation.
He stated that these points would be cleared up tomorrow.

Nor would the chairman define his own definition of "interstate business." Asked whether he personally thought the interstate shipment of securities constituted interstate business, he answered, "I'd rather not answer that question right now; I may be able to answer it tomorrow."

Sub-Group For Limited Survey.
Of the sub-committee members Wagner is the only one who can be called friendly to a broad inquiry. He voted against the above resolution to send no resolution to the interstate Commerce Committee.
Sackett, who will be chairman of the Louisville Gas Co. and the Louisville light & power company
His questions during the hearings indicated that he favored limiting the scope of the proposed investigation. He offered an amendment to the resolution today, but as the Committee meeting was closed it could not be ascertained how he wanted the inquiry limited.

Sackett voted for the Moses resolution. Pine, who also voted for the Moses resolution, took little part in the Committee's hearings, but he is known among those opposed to a general inquiry in the congressional director he listed his professions as "farmer, oil producer and manufacturer."

Lobby Tries New Maneuver.
The formidable power trust
lobby, apparently convinced that it cannot avert an investigation of some sort, now is bending its influence to the situation.

THREE HURT IN WRECK
NEAR GREENVILLE, ILL.

Four Coaches of Fast Pennsylv-
vania Train Leave Track.

Three persons were injured this afternoon when four coaches of the fast Pennsylvania Railroad train, the American, from New York to St. Louis, left the rails near Greenville, Ill., 52 miles east of St. Louis.

Robert Johnston of 5111 Raymond avenue, suffered scalp wounds.

The other two injured, were Mrs.
Harry Newman of New York and Mrs. Anne Grison of Port Smith, Ark. They were taken to a hospital at Highland. The extent of their injuries was not known.

The diner and the last three Pullman cars left the rails about three-quarters of a mile west of Greenville. The diner caught fire
but the flames were extinguished before any damage was done. The derailment was attributed unofficially to a broken rail.

CONGRESSIONAL PHONE RATE INQUIRY IN CALIFORNIA URGED

Senator Johnson Says Only Such Action Can Prevent Proposed Increase.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A congressional investigation of proposed increased telephone rates in California would be provided under a resolution offered in the Senate today by Senator Johnson (Rep.) of California. The resolution was referred to the Interstate Commerce Committee.

"Only Congress by an appropriate investigation can prevent the telephone rate increase," declared Johnson in explaining that he offered the resolution particularly in behalf of the cities of San Francisco and Oakland.

"The increases, our cities assert,
are exorbitant, and they stand ready to prove these increases are without justification. Their foundation is in the peculiar jugglery of the relations of the telephone company with inter-related corporations. Only the Congress by appropriate investigation can develop the facts; and the resolution seeks by senatorial investigation that the truth may be revealed."

Johnson explained that he was interested particularly in the companies of California. The resolution, however, would direct a special Senate committee to inquire into all phases of the telephone industry. The inquiry would be extended into the growth of capital assets and liabilities of public utility telephone companies, into the extent to which holding companies control various telephone companies and into the service furnished interlocking telephone companies.

SOVIET TO REORGANIZE
COUNCIL OF COMMISSION

Important Changes in Import Policy and Selling of Goods in Russia Expected.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 30.—A Moscow
dispatch to the Daily Express today
forecast a reorganization of the Council of Commissars, which, the dispatch said, foreshadowed important changes in the Soviet's imports policy and methods of selling goods in Russia.

The new measures were declared to be necessary in view of the strained economic situation due to "a good famine" and a virtual boycott by the peasants of the State's grain purchasing organization.

A new department will probably be created under M. Sokolnikoff, who substituted the Chekrenets,
to deal with the situation.

In 1918 He Said His Troops

ly Disparaged Americans' Share in Victory.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 30.—Earl Douglas Haig, who was commander-in-chief of the British armies in France and Belgium in the World War, died here shortly after midnight today. He was 65 years old.
Death came unexpectedly from heart disease.

Death occurred in the house of his brother-in-law, W. G. Jameson, in Prince's Gate, where he had been staying recently. He was on the point of retiring when he collapsed while sitting on the edge of the bed. He did not lose consciousness immediately, but the end came quickly.

Earl Haig had been ailing slightly of late. He said a physician a few days ago regarding his physical condition, but was able to fulfill a number of public engagements afterward. Yesterday he took a walk in Hyde Park and was complimented by a visit to the River in the doctor would permit him to travel.

Father of Poppy Day.
Since the war, Earl Haig had devoted much of his time to organizing relief for disabled soldiers and their families. As soon as the war ended he started a campaign to raise funds for the disabled veterans. He originated Poppy Day, an annual event when millions of cloth flowers, made entirely by volunteer service men, are sold throughout Great Britain for the benefit of the disabled. He also was un-concerning in his personal attention to soldiers in hospitals and other institutions.

MAN DIES OF GAS POISONING; WIFE ILL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nagel Found Overcome in Home by Neighbor.

Richard Nagel, 66 years old, 4848 Hamburg avenue, died of gas poisoning last night, and his wife, Margaret, 63, is seriously ill.

A neighbor, Miss Anna Schultz, 4832 Hamburg, went to the Nagels home at 5 p. m. to take some cakes. When her knocks were unanswered, she pushed open a door and investigated.

Mrs. Nagel was lying unconscious on the kitchen floor, and Nagel was unconscious on the basement floor. The house was poorly ventilated, and apparently they had been overcome by fumes from a gas stove, burning in the basement. Mrs. Schultz was overcome while in the basement, but managed to get out.

Mr. and Mrs. Nagel were removed to City Hospital. He died at 11:30 o'clock.

KANSAS G. O. P. FAVORS CURTIS

Col. Roosevelt to Address Annual Banquet at Topeka.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 29.—Senator Curtis of Kansas was endorsed for the Republican presidential nomination here today by the Republican State Central Committee, which unanimously adopted a resolution supporting him.

Asserting that the Republican standard bearer this year "must have the nerve to stand firmly on every public question," the resolution added that "Charles Curtis is the only man who has had the nerve so far to make a firm declaration." The committee meeting was in connection with the sixty-seventh anniversary of Kansas statehood. It was the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Kansas Day Club. Seven delegates-at-large to the Republican National Convention will be selected today. The activities will close with the annual banquet tonight, featured by an address by Col. T. R. Roosevelt of New York.

FREE TOOTH-PULLING CLINIC

Graduate Dentists Offer Services Next Wednesday Night.

About 100 patients are expected to apply for free extraction of teeth by graduate dentists under the auspices of the St. Louis Study Club between 8 and 10 o'clock Wednesday night at the Washington University Infirmary, Beaumont and Locust streets.

The Study Club was organized 10 years ago, to study advanced subjects in modern dentistry. The class meeting Wednesday night is studying conductive anesthesia.

The club is not affiliated with the local schools of dentistry, but both St. Louis and Washington Universities offer their clinic rooms for the club's sessions.

WOUNDED BY ONE OF TWO BURGLARS HE FINDS IN HOME

Albert Bloch, an Employee of City, Shot Down by Man Who Apparently Used His Revolver.

VICTIM'S WIFE SEES ASSAILANTS FLEE

Was in Automobile With Two Children When Husband Entered House to Investigate.

Albert Bloch, an inspector in the Department of Streets and Sewers, was seriously wounded by one of two burglars he surprised in his home at 2815 South Kingshighway, early last night. He is at City Hospital with a bullet wound in the right breast.

Bloch, with his wife and two children had been riding in their automobile and returned about 8 o'clock. Noticing a light in the kitchen, Bloch asked his wife if she had left the light on when she departed. She replied she had not.

Bloch told his wife and children to wait while he investigated and, letting himself in through the kitchen door, he went to a bedroom where, in a dresser drawer, he kept a revolver he recently had bought.

As Bloch pulled the drawer open, he heard a noise from the vicinity of the bathroom. "Who are you and where are you?" Bloch shouted, feeling for the weapon. The revolver was gone.

Bloch started toward the bathroom and four shots were fired at him from behind a nearby door. One bullet felled him. The burglars ran to the rear door and out into the yard, where Mrs. Bloch, who had heard the shots, saw them. Both were tall, she said.

She ran to a garage two doors away where John Gorman was working on his automobile. Gorman found Bloch lying on the bed-room floor, and he threatened to let her in his post. Police say Bloch likely was shot with his own revolver, on which there was a silencer. Gorman had heard shots, although his garage is only a short distance from the Bloch home. The house had been ransacked and several diamond rings which belonged to Mrs. Bloch were taken.

APARTMENT MANAGER HELD UP

Pedestrian Slugged on Street by Two Robbers, $25 and Watch Taken.

Charles J. Yates, owner of the Melrose Apartments, 212 North Sarah street, was in the building office in the basement with Mrs. Lena Campbell, the manager, last night, when an armed Negro entered and declared "I mean business." Yates gave the robber his purse containing $12.

Two men snugged Leroy Sherwood, 2410 South Eighteenth street, as he passed a vacant lot on Park avenue between Dolman and Eighteenth and took his watch and $3. Burglars who entered the laundry of Warren J. Morgan, 3025 Park avenue sometime yesterday, took $48 from the safe, the combination of which was knocked off.

The same men in each instance is believed to have robbed attendants of Standard Oil filling stations at Kingshighway and Maple ave. and at 4700 Delmar boulevard. At the former station, $25 was stolen and at the latter, $35.

ILLINOIS STORE PROMOTERS

GET 30 DAYS IN JAIL

Cassius E. Rush and Charles Williamson, Sentenced for Con-Celling Assets.

Cassius E. Rush, Illinois store promoter, and Charles Williamson, one of his store managers, were sentenced to 30 days each in jail and fined $200 by Federal Judge Wham in East St. Louis today, on charges of unlawfully concealing assets from creditors.

Rush owned two establishments, one in Wayne City and the other in Fairfield. In the crash of his business, which caused creditors to lose $5000, it was found that Rush had sold regular $5 merchandise at $1.50 in spectacular sales, and that the proceeds of these sales, withheld from creditors, had gone into certain "family" bank accounts.

MAN FOUND SHOT, IDENTIFIED

Martin Jacob Apparently Ended Life in Forest Park.

The body of a man who apparently shot and killed himself in Forest Park late Saturday, was identified yesterday as that of Martin Jacob, 1512 Westlawn place, St. Louis County. Jacob, who was 45 years old, was found with bullet wounds in his head and chest by Alfred J. Schopp, 3435 Lafayette avenue, as Schopp was riding on horseback through the park. Jacob had been sitting on a bench near the bridge path on the south side of the park with a pistol beside him.

The identification was made by Frank Jacobs a brother, who said he knew of no reason why his brother should kill himself.

Field Marshal Haig, British War Chief, Dies

That Earl Haig will rest in St. Paul's in accordance with the tradition of the last hundred years. Wellington and Lord Roberts are among those buried at St. Paul's.

Seven Centuries of Soldering Behind Earl Haig's Career.

THE military achievements of Earl Haig consumed seven centuries of military service by the ancient house of Haig of Bemersyde, in Berwickshire. Like many other clans, the Haig rose from the quarrels of Bruce and Balliol, and, once established, they were represented whenever the history of Scotland was being made.

They reared their sons for the service of Bruce and his Stuart successors and when their country took on the obligations of union with their southern neighbors, the Haigs fought under Clive, Earlborough and Wellington. In more peaceful times they were distillers and as such the family fortune was made and increased through several centuries.

From the day he was born, June 15, 1861, the third and youngest son of John Haig, J. P. of Camerbridge, Fifehire, a military career was planned for Douglas Haig. His father, a member of one of the younger branches of the family, was there called before Parliament, publicly thanked and voted a gift of $500,000.

A public subscription was taken and when a fund of $1,430,000 was raised, the ancestral estates of Bemersyde were purchased and presented to him as a gift of the people. Before retiring to his estates he received the freedom of all the large English cities and was made Chancellor of St. Andrews University.

In 1919 he was received by the King on relinquishing his command and retiring from the army, when His Majesty raised him to an earldom. He was later called before Parliament, publicly thanked and voted a gift of $500,000.

From Oxford to the Cavalry. Accordingly, young Haig went to exclusive Clifton and later read at Brasenose College, Oxford. His was there called to attend for any distinction beyond class dramatics, and he left there in 1882 to enter the army staff college. Here he threw off the family traditions to the extent of entering the cavalry in preference to the infantry because of his fondness for riding and his belief that this branch of service offered greater chance for advancement.

He obtained a commission in the Seventh Hussars in 1885 and then settled down to the dull existence of an army officer awaiting war. In the ordinary course of events he had attained the rank of a Captain in the Seventeenth Lancers when the Sudan campaign broke out.

He accompanied Kitchener to Khartoum, his distinguished service winning for him the admiration and friendship of his commander, Capt. Haig's fortune changed with this friendship, and from then onward his advancement was meteoric. He is said to have the record for rapidity of promotion in the cavalry.

For his service at Atbara and Khartoum he was made a Brevet Major. In the next year, the Boer War, under Gen. Sir John French, his successful commanding of several cavalry columns again won the praise of his commander and he was made a Brevet-Colonel and added to his store of medals.

Made Major-General in 1904. These campaigns were a basis upon which the Colonel was able to build a reputation as a strategist and leader. The friendship of Kitchener soon gave him the command of Inspector-general of cavalry in India from 1905 to 1906 and he was gazetted as a Major-General in 1904, just eight years after he had been a Lieutenant of cavalry. He was knighted in 1911.

When the war started he was directed "military training at the War Office. He trained and sent the first contingent to France but at the urgent request of Field Marshal French, he was sent to France to command the First Army Corps.

It fell to Gen. Haig to command the English divisions at the first battle of the Marne and this he did with such skill that his work was singled out by Lord French in his report to the War Office. For this service Haig was made a full General and, despite the fact that there were older and more experienced officers in the field, he came to be recognized as the ablest of the English commanders.

Retreats From Mons and Ypres. The retreats from Mons and Ypres covered by the cavalry have been known as the finest examples of military science produced in the war. This brought more commendation for the commander of the First Corps and when on Dec. 15, 1915, French was relieved of the supreme command of the English and French forces, Haig was named to the post.

He was appointed Field Marshal in 1917.

In 1919 he was received by the King on relinquishing his command and retiring from the army, when His Majesty raised him to an earldom. He was later called before Parliament, publicly thanked and voted a gift of $500,000.

POLICE WARNED - BY CHIEF GERK OF GUNMEN'S THREAT

Order at Roll-Call Repeats "Information" That Italians Say They Will 'Get Certain Officers.'

An order by Chief of Police Gerke, telling of purported threats by Italian gangsters to kill policemen, was read today at roll calls at headquarters and the 14 district stations.

Chief Gerke's announcement, addressed "to the men of the force," is as follows:

"Information comes to me from a reliable source that Joe Bonmarito, now confined in the city jail, but who no doubt will make an effort to be released on bond, and Ralph Calico, who recently was acquitted of a charge of murder, both of whom are well-known and dangerous Italian gangsters and gunmen, made threats that they would 'get' certain police officers when they get out of jail, and further, that they would not hesitate to 'knock off' any copper who would get in their way.

Advice to the Force. "This challenge should be enough to put the entire force on its toes and be on the alert at all times to the end that should the Coroner have a duty to perform, let it be on a gangster."

In effect, Chief Gerke's order is a reiteration of previous instructions for policemen to protect themselves. There have been 16 men murdered in the Italian feed during the last six months, the number including one bystander, but no policemen.

Calico, most notorious of the gangsters at liberty, having been acquitted by a jury last Friday of the murder of Alphonse Palazzolo, a rival gangster, at Tenth and Wash streets, Sept. 9, Bonmarito and several others remain under indictment for that murder, and ball will be sought for Bonmarito and two others now confined in the city jail.

Open Defiance of Law. Dismissing his order, Chief Gerke said Bonmarito is appealing from a two-year sentence for carrying concealed weapons and has two similar cases pending against him. Bonmarito is said to have boasted to the policeman who arrested him the last time: "Every time you arrest me you'll find a gun on me—I'm no fool."

"That is open defiance of the law," commented Chief Gerke. "So many other clans let a man like that loose to prey on the public, we will have to be ready."

Chief Gerke intends to ask the Circuit Attorney to oppose bail for Bonmarito and to try to expel him from the city under the two-year sentence.

Midland Company's Roof and Stock Damaged by Blaze.

Several hundred employees of nearby factories and warehouses watched a fire today at the Midland Paper Co., 524 South First street. The fire was discovered at 7:30 a. m. and was under control within half an hour. It was confined to the roof. Two alarms were sounded.

A defective flue from an office store is thought to have caused the fire, chief O'Donnell of the Salvage Corps estimated damage to the two-story brick building at $3000 and to the stock of wrapping paper at $8000. The building is owned by the Valentine Warehouse Co.

London Stage Americanized. LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Americanization of the London stage has nearly ended, said Charles Cochran, English showman, at an annual dinner for repertoire players. The reason for this, said Cochran, was that "there are only two more plays in America which haven't been produced here, and both of them have been barred by our censor."

of one of its most illustrious chiefs.

"Perfect Brother in Arms," Declares Marshal Foch.

NICE, France, Jan. 30.—Marshal Foch, Generalissimo of the Allied forces in the last stages of the World War, on learning of Earl Haig's death today said:

"I learn with profound sadness of the unexpected death of Field Marshal Douglas Haig. He had always been for me a perfect brother in arms, very loyal and very straightforward. I have always appreciated his perfect knowledge of the profession of arms and of the handling of the British troops. After the war he testified his attachment to his soldiers by his devotion to work which concerned the former combatants. I do not doubt that his loss will be greatly felt by them as it will be throughout the whole British empire of which he was always a great servant."

Gen. Pershing Grieved and Shocked at Haig's Death.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 30.—Gen. Pershing was visibly affected today when informed of the death of Marshal Haig. En route East, the General's train halted here for a short time this afternoon. He said it was a great shock to learn of Haig's death and expressed deep regret.

He made no formal statement.

LINDBERGH'S PARACHUTE TO BE EXHIBITED AT BANQUET

Dinner at Hotel Chase Will Be First of Air Board of Commerce Chamber.

Lindbergh twice made emergency jumps from fogbound airplanes while he was a pilot on the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route, will be the central decorative feature at the speakers' table tomorrow night at Hotel Chase for the first banquet of the new Air Board of the Chamber of Commerce.

The speakers of the evening include Maj. Thomas Lamplier, commander of the First Pursuit Group of the Air Corps; Harold M. Bixby, president of the Chamber of Commerce; William B. Robertson, president of the Curtiss-Robertson Aircraft Corporation; Maj. C. Ray Wassall, commander of the Thirty-fifth Division Air Corps; Lieutenant Colonel John A. Paegelow, commander of Scott Field; Postmaster Michener, Mayor Miller, Harry H. Knight, one of Lindbergh's backers; Carl F. G. Meyer, civilian aide to the Secretary of War, and Eugene Angert.

JUDGE MIX ORDERS RECEIVER TO SELL BORING TOOL FIRM

Two Good Offers Made for Business, Now Making Profit, Edwin B. Meissner Reports.

Public sale March 7 of the Davis Boring Tool Co. of 2693 Forest Park boulevard, which went into receivership last March, and has since been operated at a profit, was ordered by Circuit Judge Mix today, following a report of Edwin B. Meissner, the receiver, that he had received two excellent offers of purchase for the business. The sale will be conducted at the plant.

Meissner, who is also president of the St. Louis Car Co., said the highest offer made for the company was $125,000 in cash, with receivable cash accounts of more than $40,000 also going to the buyers. The receiver stated that the purchase offers, if accepted, would enable the company to pay all outstanding obligations. The company was originally capitalized for approximately $500,000, and was thrown into receivership through debt to the Crucible Steel Co. of Pittsburgh. It manufactures tools used mainly in the automobile industry.

STABS SELF AS WIFE LOOKS ON

She Refused Plea to Return After Separation.

Charles Sippel, 3146 Delor street, stabbed himself in the abdomen yesterday afternoon after his wife, from whom he is separated, had refused to return to him. He is at City Hospital in a serious condition.

Mrs. Sippel, who lives at 4609 Delor street, said her husband stopped her on Chippewa street, near Grand boulevard and attempted suicide when she rejected his overtures.

BLAMES PARENTS FOR CRIME

Judge Bernreuter Thinks Farm-Reared Children Best.

Circuit Judge Louis Bernreuter of Nashville, Ill., speaking at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church in East St. Louis, last night, said the careless manner of bringing up children and the lack of moral and religious training are the greatest underlying causes of crime and divorce.

"The farm, said the jurist, 'where children associate with their parents, where the entire family goes to church, and where all have something to do, is the best place to bring up children.'"

Last of Taylor Twins Dies at 88.

NORRISTOWN, N. J., Jan. 29.—Miss Eliza Dean Taylor, 88 years old, survivor of the famous pair of Taylor twins who were said to have been joined in the United States, died today in her home at Xenandria. Her sister, Maria Louise, died last June.

Ibanez to Lie in Spanish Soil Taken to France

Author's Will Forbade Burial in Spain as Long as Monarchy He Fought Against Exists.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Spain, Jan. 30.—Determined that Vicente Blasco Ibanez, who died in exile, should be buried in Spanish soil, a group of his friends are taking the soil with them to Mentone, France, his last resting place. They also are taking a silk flag of Valencia, his birthplace.

Thus the Republican novelist, who said that he would never return to Spain, not even in death, while it was a monarchy, will rest underneath Spanish soil on his beloved Riviera.

The soil was taken from his garden among the orange groves of Valencia, where Ibanez wrote or planned the novels which brought him fame.

It was estimated by friends here today that Ibanez left 5,000,000 pesetas (roughly $350,000).

SANDINO'S MEN DESERTING, SAY NICARAGUANS

Small Groups of His Followers in Nueva Segovia Are Reported Fleeing Southward.

MARINES FIND NO TRACE OF GENERAL

Defeat Suffered by Insurgent Leader at El Chipote, Said to Have Caused a Number of Defections.

By the Associated Press.
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 30.—Gen. Sandino, the Nicaraguan leader, apparently has dropped from sight and his men were scattered, according to advices reaching Marine headquarters here.

An airplane patrol returning from the Quilali region, first stronghold of Sandino to fall in the Marine campaign against him, reported all quiet, with no signs of the irregulars. From El Chipote, which was deserted by Sandino after a severe aerial attack Jan. 14, the Marine garrison there sent word that no activity of insurgents was to be noted.

Nicaraguans arriving from Condega, department of Esteli, said that the defeat suffered by Sandino Jan. 14 caused a number of his followers to desert him. Small groups of his men now are traveling southward, anxious to get away from Nueva Segovia, the scene of the fighting, it was asserted.

A Nicaraguan from Nueva Segovia said the Marine plan of seizing the larger villages thus depriving Sandino of food had resulted in the breaking up of the insurgent forces.

In the meantime Marine replacements from Leon are pushing forward into the region and meeting no opposition. The work of the Government road building gang is making the march with pack trains comparatively easy. The columns will reach Ocotal in a few days and use the town as a base and regimental headquarters.

Wheeler Assails U. S. Policy in Nicaragua and the Philippines.
By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 30.—The policy of the United States Government in dealing with Nicaragua and the Philippines "by sending marines and gunboats is morally wrong and not based on sound economics," Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana told the Baltimore Open Forum yesterday.

Senator Wheeler questioned the dependability of the reports and opinions coming from American residents of the islands, saying that they were prompted by "selfish economic motives directly opposed to the economic interests of the American people as a whole." "It is true," he asserted, "that we must extend our markets in order to find an outlet for the present overproduction in industry and agriculture, but we will not be successful in extending them by the boycott. Neither in Nicaragua nor in the Philippines will the present policy of imperialism prove a success."

Nicaraguan Protest Stamps Barred From the Mails.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Efforts of the All-American Anti-Imperialist League to further the cause in this country of Gen. Sandino have met an obstacle placed in their way by the Postoffice Department.

The league, however, intends to fight back, its secretary, Manuel Gomez, said yesterday.

For several days the league has had under way in New York a campaign to sell Nicaragua "protest stamps" to be affixed, like antituberculosis seals, to the backs of envelopes. The stamps bear the inscription: "Protest Against Marine Rule in Nicaragua."

As soon as he learned of the campaign, Postmaster Kieley notified the league that any mail bearing its stamps would be classed as "unmailable" and warned its officers they might be liable to criminal prosecution.

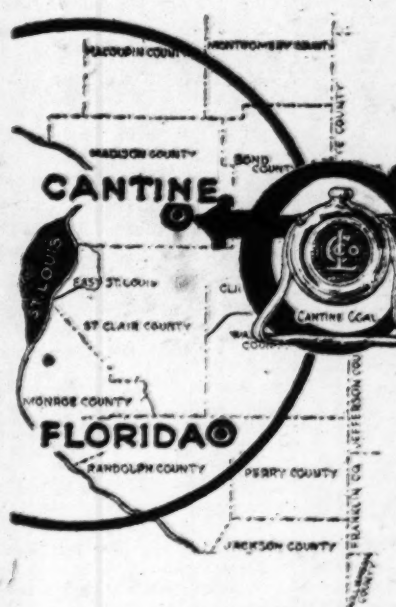

"By direction of the solicitor of the postoffice," Kieley wrote, "you are informed that the placing of such stamps upon mail will bring it within the purview of Section 212, U. S. Penal Code, a copy of which is enclosed herewith. Any mail with such stamps thereon will, therefore, be treated as unmailable."

Section 212 relates to the sending through the mails of libelous, scurrilous, defamatory and threatening matter and provides punishment, on conviction, by a fine of not more than $5000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both.

8000 Workers End Strike.

By the Associated Press.
HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 30.—A strike of more than 8000 workers, which has tied up the shoe industry in this city for almost two weeks, was settled last night when it was announced that the strikers would return to work today at their 1927 wages. They struck in protest against a wage reduction ranging from 10 to 30 per cent.

Do You Know
What a Woman of 30 Should Weigh?

It all depends on her height, of course.

If she is five feet seven inches in height she should weigh according to the best authorities 142 pounds.

If she is five feet five inches her normal weight is 124 pounds.

If she is five feet three inches she should weigh 107 pounds.

It is dangerous to be always striving to grow thin—the Adirondack Mountains and health resorts everywhere are filled with health-shattered women who will tell you that it doesn't pay to be too thin.

That is why so many thousands of underweight men and women are putting their faith in McCoy's Tablets.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee: If after taking 4 sixty-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores, or any drug store in America.

BEWARE THE
THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take.

Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles.

Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

New Strength for Weak People

If you are weak and languid, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac three times a day before meals. This reliable old medicine helps the stomach to digest food and turn it into real strength. Soon you gain in weight, vigor and endurance, and eat and sleep as you used to.

Mrs. Grace Jackson, of 125 East 20th St., Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "My stomach was so bad my weight went down to 72 lbs., and we had spent all my husband made for treatments. After several bottles of Tanlac I could eat heartily and now enjoy life."

Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for weak, nervous people afflicted with stomach trouble, dizzy spells and nausea and aches and pains; for people who are always drowsy and tire easily. A dose costs you less than 3 cents. The first bottle has brought improvement to thousands.

Tanlac is a good, pure medicine. It contains safe, scientific vegetable ingredients of roots, bark and herbs that are recognized by the United States Pharmacopoeia. Get it from your druggist and begin to take it right away. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

BILLY SUNDAY TALKS TO PASTORS' ALLIANCE

Evangelist Has More Use for
"Cut-Throats in Russia"
Than for Modernists.

Several hundred members of the Ministerial Alliance, hearing Billy Sunday's vehement attack on modernism at their regular meeting today at Downtown Y. M. C. A., voted thanks to him and prayers for his 7-week evangelistic campaign at the Coliseum. Comparatively few failed to rise when the vote was called for.

Sunday declared two religions were being preached from orthodox pulpits, "one the great redemptive religion known as Christianity, and the other anti-Christian, agnostic, modernistic and naturalistic."

"I have more respect for that gang of cut-throats over there in Russia than for these people who call themselves modernists," he shouted, and added, "By the eternal I'm as modern as any man."

Some of his listeners applauded, and some laughed. Sunday said that preachers who "eat the church's food and then float her doctrines" were a great deal like grafters, except that "grafters try and cover up, while these big-wigs, prophets of the devil, seem to glory in their shame."

He declared that Christianity had to stand or fall by the virgin birth and resurrection of Jesus, and that if Jesus was not born miraculously, "Son of the living God," then his birth was brought about by "two unholy unmarried people, who have been able to fool the world for 1900 years."

$12,000. Pledged at Revival in 35 Minutes, Sets Record.

The revival committee took 35 minutes, before Billy Sunday preached last night at the Coliseum, to obtain pledges exceeding $12,000.

Only $1000 remains to be raised for the $30,000 expense fund and no collection will be taken until next Sunday. The evangelist obtains his compensation from a free-will offering on the last two days of the seven weeks' revival, which went into its fourth week last night.

Hugo Wurdack, of the revival committee, who fixed up the loud speaker above the evangelist's head so that he can be heard in the farthest gallery, took the platform and in 11 minutes obtained pledges exceeding any single collection previously taken at a Billy Sunday revival. The largest single collection before last night was $1500 at Kansas City.

Pledges for $1000 each were made by A. E. Forbes, Thomas Mettlow, I. R. Kelso, Wurdack and Mrs. W. P. Carmichael and daughter, Hope Congregation.

Church raised $1135. Dozens of subscriptions in three figures were made and the total reached $12,250 while Wurdack still was calling for $25 gifts.

Sermon on Salvation.

Sunday became impatient while the subscriptions, many in cash or checks, still were coming in. He wasted no time warning up to his text, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation," Hebrews 2:3.

"If there's no hell there would have been no need for Christ to have come into the world," he declared. He remarked, however, that there were other imaginable forms of agony besides burning. And then he went into particulars. He pictured a man with a long razor-like knife stealing in upon a sleeping child. He told of a mother who gave three children poison by mistake and of a broken heart, and of another whose son burned her letters unopened and, when she traveled across the continent to talk to him, put his fingers in his ears.

The danger of putting off conversion was pointed by elaborate descriptions of a fire, the Johnstown flood, the destruction of Saint Pierre, Martinique, the Ashabula Bridge disaster, and the heroism of P. P. Bliss, also pictured in her "Sentimental Song Book," by Julia A. Moore, the "sweet singer of Michigan."

"He said that the 50,000 people of Saint Pierre worshipped the devil and most of them had pledged themselves to do what the devil wanted them to do. He said that 48,292 perished in the eruption of Mont Pelee, and one escaped but died six hours after he got outside the city limits. The New International Encyclopedia says 39,000 perished, giving the population a year previously as 56,011, and that two escaped, one being a prisoner in the city jail.

Reassuringly, however, he affirmed that whoever accepts salvation "stands before God as though he had never sinned."

"I could go down to hell and preach, I could depopulate hell in 15 minutes," he said. "I wouldn't have to stay there seven weeks."

About 8000 persons heard a sermon for men only in the afternoon, while two "women only" meetings were held elsewhere. Sunday signed up 76 converts, 68 reconsecrated church members and 22 unconverted in the afternoon. He will speak for men only next Sunday afternoon, while Mrs. Sunday speaks to women only at Moolah Temple, and Saturday night he will deliver his anti-evolution sermon, "Nuts for Skeptics to Crack."

W. McC. Martin to Speak.

William McC. Martin, chairman of the board, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, will speak on "The Federal Reserve System and Business Conditions" at the weekly luncheon of the St. Louis Electrical Board of Trade, which will be held at Hotel Statler at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow.

BAR DRAFTS FORMULA TO PREVENT STRIKES

Committee Proposes to Make Settlements by Arbitration Binding.By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A formula designed to assist in preventing strikes and lockouts and to facilitate the peaceful adjustment of industrial disputes has been drafted by a sub-committee of the Committee on Commerce of the American Bar Association.

The formula is the result of several years of study, during which the views of both labor and employers and the safeguarding of the public's interests have been carefully considered. It is offered tentatively as a basis for preventing the tremendous waste of industrial warfare in a manner thoroughly consistent with American legal precedents and with the tendency of both employers and labor in this country.

Briefly, it proposes that, if an employer and his employees voluntarily contract to settle their differences by negotiation and arbitration the contract shall have legal standing and be enforceable. It contemplates no pressure, to compel employers to make such contracts. It merely gives them a legal sanction, now lacking.

Principle of Proposal.

In principle, it proposes what already has been done in the railroad business by the Parker-Watson bill, which establishes the Board of Mediation, to which either the executives or the employees may appeal their differences. It is broadly comparable to the Federal arbitration act, which paved the way for the rapidly growing practice of arbitrating commercial disputes which are based on the industrial dispute laws in Italy, Canada and New Zealand.

The sub-committee also proposed the establishment of a national industrial council. Its nature is not defined in the formula made public yesterday, but it is contemplated that it would be a permanent fact-finding body which would do more thoroughly what is from time to time done by separate commissions appointed in times of industrial strife.

It is not intended in any sense, it is learned, as an industrial court, but, as the collector and custodian of reliable material to which arbitration boards and the public may have access.

Public Hearings Next Month. Together with the tentative formula, it was announced that public hearings upon it will be held Feb. 15, 17 and 18 at the Association of the Bar of the City of New York. They will be presided over by Julius Henry Cohen of New York, chairman of the sub-committee which drafted the formula. The other members of the sub-committee are Rush C. Butler of Chicago and Thomas W. Davis of Wilmington, N. C.

In their work they have had the advice of a committee of the American Federation of Labor, composed of Mathew Wolf, a vice president; John P. Frey, head of the Metal Trades Department, and Victor A. Orlander, secretary-treasurer of the Seamen's Union. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Stuart H. Strawn of Chicago, president of the American Bar Association, will be among those who will present their views at the hearings.

TWO HELD ON CHARGE THEY PROMISED 'DRY' PROTECTION

East St. Louis Bondsman and Salesman Arrested on Complaint of Woman.

William E. Tevabough, professional bondsman of East St. Louis and head of a contracting firm, and T. J. Butler, typewriter salesman, were arrested by East St. Louis police yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Augusta Adkins, proprietor of a beverage establishment at 205A St. Clair avenue, who charges Tevabough agreed to protect her from prohibition agents' raids for $50.

Butler was arrested by detectives hiding in Mrs. Adkins' flat, after the police reported, he had accepted $25 in marked money from her. Tevabough's arrest followed. Mrs. Adkins said she had reasons to believe that prohibition agents had secured an affidavit of liquor sale against her establishment and that, fearing publicity, she went to see Tevabough, who told her he could "take care of it." Both men, police announced, signed statements admitting their participation.

The prisoners were questioned by United States District Attorney Baker. Warrants have not been issued. Tevabough's offices are on Main street directly across from East St. Louis police headquarters.

James M. Beck to Run Again. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—James M. Beck announced yesterday that he was a candidate to succeed himself in the National House from the First Philadelphia District. Mr. Beck, whose residence qualifications for the seat he occupies are under fire at Washington, will have the support of the South Philadelphia wards. He expressed confidence that he would successfully resist the effort to unseat him.

E. B. BABCOCK WEDS IN PARIS

Carnegie Peace Endowment Director Marries Secretary.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—E. B. Babcock, European director of the Carnegie Peace Endowment, and Marie Therese Feydeau, secretary-general of the Paris office, were married quietly at the city hall in the Latin quarter today.

Julius Jusserand, former French Ambassador to the United States, was one of the witnesses. A religious ceremony will be held tomorrow.

HOTEL CHASE CHANGE

IN OWNERSHIP LIKELY

Negotiations for Reorganization of Operating Company Under Discussion.

Negotiations for the reorganization of the operating company of Hotel Chase are under discussion, it was learned today, and a definite announcement of a change in ownership is likely to be made shortly.

George T. Thompson, vice president of the operating company and one of the managing directors, has retired, and the hotel is under the sole management of Frederick C. Skillman, also a vice president of the operating concern.

A report in financial circles is that E. B. Wolf of Chicago, president of the Lindell Hotel Co., which operates the hotel, is seeking a buyer or buyers to take over his company's equity in the establishment.

An investment that is said to represent an outlay of $4,500,000 in land, buildings and furnishings, the hotel is subject to a deed of trust of $2,700,000, in which E. W. Straus & Co. of Chicago represents the bondholders. In this connection it is understood E. W. Straus & Co. is planning to take over the operation of the hotel in the event Wolf cannot find a buyer, just as it operated the establishment for a period of almost a year before the Lindell Hotel Co. took it over in December, 1924.

$2,000,000 FIRE SWEEPS

VILLANOVA (PA.) COLLEGE

Main Building Destroyed; 24 Companies Plundered Through Deep Snow to Fight Flames.

VILLANOVA, Pa., Jan. 30.—The main building of the Villanova College group, was destroyed by fire last night.

Hampered by lack of water and floundering in the deep snow that covered the campus, 24 fire companies fought for six hours. Hundreds of students and priests fought side by side with the firemen and some of them risked their lives in salvaging college records and laboratory apparatus. Many of these records and instruments were destroyed.

Father Daniel Driscoll, procurator, estimated the loss at $2,000,000, not including the personal belongings of 200 students whose dormitories were on the second and third floors of college hall.

In addition to the dormitories, college hall, a long four-story, U-shaped granite structure of Gothic architecture, housed most of the class rooms, lecture halls and laboratories.

Among the articles burned were 30 oil paintings of popes and priests.

Villanova College is conducted by the Augustinian Fathers. It has 1400 students.

E. B. Braden, Mining Expert, Dies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Eugene Bradford Braden, 63 years old, chairman of the Advisory Board of the American Smelting and Refining Co., and nationally known mining expert, died here.

Nervous, Pale Girl, 6,

Gains 2 Lbs In Week

"My little girl of 6 has nice, rosy cheeks now, and has gained over 2 pounds a week since giving her Vinol."—Mrs. George Henderson.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver, papaya, iron, etc. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious. Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores.

YOUR ST. LOUIS

How Well Do You Know

THE PIGGLY WIGGLY

The Piggly Wiggly Stores of St. Louis, organized by St. Louis people since August, 1919, with eight stores, moderate start, the business has grown to 110 self-service grocery stores, 101 equipped with sanitary meat markets of business of the Company today times what it was in 1921.

The St. Louis stores employ 900 of whom are young men and women raised in the City of St. Louis.

The company is owned by St. Louis investors, there being more than 1000 within Greater St. Louis.

The wholesale department, general bakery are now housed in a new building erected in the Fall of 1926, at the corner of Chestnut and Market. The first building covers more than 50,000 sq. ft. has its own private railroad tracks and with the most modern refrigeration, sanitary bakery and cafeteria for 500.

Every day this space will be taken up by one particular market concern which is contributing to the dynamic growth of St. Louis.

Tuesday Is Courtesy Day in the February Sales of Furniture and Home Furnishings

YOUR ST. LOUIS

How Well Do You Know It?

THE PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES

The Piggly Wiggly Stores of St. Louis were organized by St. Louis people and opened in August, 1919, with eight stores. From this moderate start, the business has now grown to 110 self-service grocery stores, 101 of which are equipped with sanitary meat markets, the volume of business of the Company today being sixteen times what it was in 1921.

The St. Louis stores employ 800 people, most of whom are young men and women born and raised in the City of St. Louis.

The company is owned by St. Louis resident investors, there being more than 500 stockholders within Greater St. Louis.

The wholesale department, general offices and bakery are now housed in a new plant, completed in the Fall of 1926, at the corner of Spring and Chouteau avenues. The first floor of this building covers more than an acre of ground,
has its own private railroad tracks and is equipped with the most modern refrigerating plants,
sanitary bakery and cafeteria for its employees.

Every day this space will be devoted to some one particular manufacturing concern which is contributing to the dynamic growth of St. Louis.

EAST SIDE CONSTABLE SHOT
BY REPORTER IN ROADHOUSE

Timothy McCarthy Says Revolver
Was Accidentally Fired During Scuffle With Third Man
Constable August Clossen of Centerville Station, Township was shot and seriously wounded early yesterday by Timothy McCarthy, a newspaper reporter, during an altercation in a roadhouse at 1319
North Seventy-third street, East St. Louis. McCarthy claims the shooting was accidental. Clossen is at St. Mary's Hospital.
Before the shooting, McCarthy had an altercation with William Sarilous, a factory foreman, of Belleville. While scuffling for a revolver McCarthy had, Clossen stepped between them to disarm McCarthy, and the weapon was discharged, McCarthy told the police.
McCarthy said he previously had given one revolver to Clossen, after Clossen had refused to let McCarthy at one time preferred charges against Henry Jordan, formerly a city detective in St. Louis, after Jordan had fired a shot at McCarthy during an altercation
they had in East St. Louis.

BURGLARS HAUL AWAY
SAFE CONTAINING $200

Burglars who entered the offices of the Texaco Co., 5043 Brown avenue, some time after Saturday evening, took away a 600-pound safe, which contained $200 cash, 15 gasoline coupon books, with a trade value of $150 and checks totaling $1078.
Burglars also opened, over the week-end three safes in the offices of the Mississippi Valley Life Insurance Co., 1123 Paul Brown Building, from which they took $52
cash and $75 in postage stamps.
The combinations had been worked and the inner doors forced, after which the safes again were locked,
police were told.

CARTOONIST KILLS HIMSELF
WHILE GUESTS MAKE MERRY

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Leaving his guests to entertain themselves
in his apartment, Hans Stengel, newspaper cartoonist, committed suicide by hanging himself yesterday. The guests did not miss him until another friend arrived and inquired for the host.
Stengel had been employed as cartoonist on the Herald-Tribune,
the Telegraph, and most recently on the Journal, and his work had appeared also in magazines. He was 32 years old. His friends said he had been despondent for some time.
He was born in Sheboygan, Wis., and taken at the age of 2 years to Germany, where he was educated, studying at Heidelberg. In the World War he served as a member of the General Headquarters staff of the German army. Two years ago he was divorced by Mrs. Lena von Stengel, a light opera singer.

W. C. T. U. TO DISCUSS POLITICAL CAMPAIGN ACTIVITY

Delegates From Four States to Meet in Kansas City Early in February.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 29.—The question of utilizing the strength of the W. C. T. U. in the prevention of political campaigns and in the election to follow will be among subjects discussed at a meeting here Feb. 2-3 of W. C. T. U. leaders from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Oklahoma.

The meeting was called as a part of the national plan of the organization to study the problem of law enforcement and regulation of subjects. Mrs. N. C. Burger, Springfield, president of the Missouri organization, and Mrs. Ella G. Bode, president of the national body, will lead the meeting here.

Mrs. Burger, according to the statement announcing the meeting, will "expose the political ambitions of opponents of the eighteenth amendment" in an address on "Why the Wets Want to Elect the Next President."

Other speakers at the meeting will include Mrs. Laura Thornberg, vice president of the Iowa W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Lillian M. Mitchell, president of the Kansas W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Elizabeth House, president of the Oklahoma W. C. T. U.; Sam Haley, Federal Prohibition Administrator for the Missouri-Kansas district; Mrs. Mason C. Alderman, president of the Kansas City Council of Clubs; Mrs. George T. Fuller, president of the Kansas City Round Table of Club Presidents; and Mrs. Frank E. Shelton, Athens Club, Kansas City.

Healthy, vigorous men and life's best prizes. Dainty step, bright eyes, clear complexion and exuberant vitality denote a system free from impurities. Constipation poisons the whole system, slows the steps, saps energy, destroys confidence and cuts down the earning power.

Rid your system of constipation and its poisons. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets remove them gently, tone up the system, clear the eyes and complexion and bring back normal vigor. A compound of vegetable ingredients, prescribed for patients for 20 years in place of cathartics. They act easily and quickly on bowels and liver. Thousands of happy men and women use them regularly as an aid to success in their everyday tasks. Know them by their olive color. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

WOMEN TO CONSIDER LEGISLATIVE QUESTIONS

Illinois Women's Joint Legislative Council Will Meet Today at Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Legislation, child welfare, women's eight-hour day and the judiciary will be brought to the attention of delegates of nine member organizations of the Illinois Women's Joint Legislative Council, which meets here today. Miss Grace Temple is president of the council.

Dr. Mary B. Harris, superintendent of the Federal Institute for Women, of Alderson, W. Va., will open the session with an address on "State Reformatory for Women Offenders." Her address will be followed by discussion by Sidney J. Williams, director of the Public Safety Division, National Safety Council, on "Effectiveness of Examining and Licensing Motor Drivers as a Safety Measure."

The women's eight-hour day will be the theme taken by two speakers following Williams' discussion. Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill and Miss Nester, both of Chicago.

Floyd T. Goodier, Superintendent of Schools, Chicago Heights, will deliver an address on "Educational Legislation."

In the afternoon the women will hear Dr. A. R. Hutton, Northwestern University professor of political science, speak on "Home Rule for Illinois Cities." His address will be followed by Miss Anne Davis' discussion of "Does Illinois Lead as a Protector of the Child Worker?"

Miss Davis is director of the Bureau of Vocational Guidance of the Chicago Board of Education.

"Jury Service for Women in Illinois," by Esther Dunshee; "Election Law Revision," by Dr. Jerome G. Kerwin, professor of political science, University of Chicago, and "Maternity and Infancy Care," by Julia Lathrop, former chief, United States Children's Bureau, are other topics and speakers on the program.

Member organizations of the council are Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, League of Women Voters, Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, Graduate Nurses' Association, Women's Trade Union League, State Teachers Association, Federation of Business and Professional Women, Y. W. C. A. and the Women's Bar Association of Illinois.

ILL HEALTH URGED AS GOOD EXCUSE TO RETIRE MADDOX

Inspired Rumors Current That Superintendent Is to Resign and Become School Principal.

HARDLY LIKELY TO BE REAPPOINTED

Contract Expires Next Year—Friends on Board of Education Will Not Let Him Be Humiliated.

The ill health of John J. Maddox, Superintendent of Instruction, has been seized upon by those members of the Board of Education opposed to his administration of the public schools as affording him a graceful opportunity to surrender to the harrassing to which they have subjected him for more than a year. Maddox has been suffering from low blood pressure.

Inspired rumors are current that he is about to resign as Superintendent and accept a subsidiary position in the schools, possibly as principal of Roosevelt High School. It is known that the idea did not originate with Maddox, but that the subject has been mentioned at caucuses of certain members of the Board within the last few days.

Reappointment Unlikely. It is known that, unless there is a radical change of present sentiment in the Board, Maddox cannot achieve reappointment when his present 4-year contract expires next year. Some members who have been disposed to defend him against the recent attacks upon his administration do not favor his re-election. But they will not tolerate his humiliation. They view the present rumors as merely a subtle final thrust to get rid of him at once, made in the hope that Maddox himself, with poor health as a pretext, will bow to them.

The board has been divided on Maddox ever since the Superintendent, more than a year ago, reorganized his department, demoting three assistant superintendents and establishing six bureaus, each with a specialized task in school administration.

Policy Caused Split in Board. However this plan was conceived, it gained its chief support from members of the board who saw in it a sly way of checking the increasing prestige of Miss Lillie R. Ernst, one of the assistant superintendents deposed. Chief support of the plan came from Arthur A. Blumeyer and Richard Murphy. Chief opposition centered in Mrs. Elias Michael, John C. Tobin and Myrt A. Rollins.

Blumeyer and Murphy soured upon Maddox shortly after. From supporters they were changed into bitter opponents who have sought to embarrass him at every opportunity. The reason has not been made clear. Some weight may be given to a report that his former supporters did not find his ear as attentive as they had hoped. They had regarded Maddox as pliant and somewhat indecisive, at least not inclined to vigorous opposition to anything members might suggest.

First Outward Sign of Row. The first outward sign of the controversy came with the refusal several months ago of the committee on instruction, of which Blumeyer then was chairman, to approve certain teaching appointments of the Superintendent. Blumeyer and his supporters were irritated by the attitude of the Superintendent in forcing these disagreements into the light of the public meetings of the Board. They hoped that, once they indicated disapproval of any teacher in the secret committee meetings, that the Superintendent would quietly withdraw the objectionable appointment and substitute one to their liking. Sole power of appointment lies with the superintendent. The instruction committee and the Board only can decline to approve.

New Support for Superintendent. Under this opposition, Maddox suddenly developed a forcefulness and determination which had not been suspected. His opponents, pressed to find a plausible reason for opposing his appointments, hit upon the unhappy ground that none but residents of St. Louis should be appointed to teaching positions. Of course, such a policy would quickly send the public schools to seed. Stated in the open board meetings, it had the effect of rallying new members of the board, notably Dr. David C. Todd, to the support of the superintendent. Members who had been in a minority quickly found themselves in the position, if not of actual majority, of sufficient strength to shear the Blumeyer-Murphy combination of control. On one or two occasions Blumeyer and his supporters have been forced to take a licking in their effort to block appointments.

Probably Could Resist Ouster. This was the situation in the board at the January meeting, when Maddox, after scoring a victory in a close vote, became ill. He since has not been in good health. On an out-and-out vote on whether Maddox should be retained as head of the schools, he likely would find himself a loser. But the effort to oust him in advance of the expiration of his contract, apparently will fail if he chooses to continue to fight. Maddox refused to comment today upon the situation, saying that it was a matter for discussion by the Board, not himself. Concerning the report of his ill health, he said that any impression that he was an invalid was not correct, though he had not fully recovered from a sudden illness three weeks ago.

Maddox first was appointed to be superintendent in 1921. At that time he was principal of Cleveland High School. He was reappointed in 1925. He has been in the public schools since 1910. T. C. Spencer, principal of the new vocational school, likely will be the board's appointee to head the new division of research and publicity which it has authorized. This job was devised to subtract from the authority of Maddox to the extent of giving the board an independent source of information, not under the orders of the superintendent. Spencer formerly was assistant to Maddox.

MISSOURIAN AT YALE DEFENDS AID OF STRIKE

William F. Saye of Paris, One of 19 Students Arrested, Issues Statement.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 30.—One or two of the 19 students of Yale University who were arrested recently on charges of illegal distribution of handbills among the striking employees of two large neckwear manufacturers here, have issued statements concerning the incident, which has been termed "a disgraceful outrage."

William F. Saye of Paris, Mo., a divinity student, asserted the arrests were in violation of the constitutional rights of the students.

"These arrests came as a result of a direct and carefully planned program on the part of the New Haven police," said Saye.

"The arrests were in violation of our rights. The issue here was and is quite simple. These neckwear manufacturers have gone back to the old sweatshop idea. Every man, woman and child of this city well knew what has been done to the workers of these factories. Asked and required to do a vast amount of labor in their own homes for about one-third of the rate they were receiving for the same work in the factories a year ago, the neckwear workers went on strike. Every person with red blood and a sense of fair play sympathized with and prayed for them. There were details of these cases which would stab your heart, your conscience.

"We students, or a representative group of us, acted," he continued. "First, we made a most conscientious and thorough investigation. We determined the real facts of the controversy between the firms and the workers, and as a result 45 students interested in distributing these pamphlets to the general public in 23 zones when the high and mighty police stepped in and arrested a score of us. The pamphlets contained every bit of the certified evidence we had unearthed and stated the facts and merits of the controversy in a nutshell.

"One finds or hears of few police organizations with the zeal and authority of the New Haven force. When the true facts come out, as they surely will when the proper time arrives, the country at large will realize who runs the police of New Haven and what a disgraceful situation exists here. The fight has only begun."

Saye is one of the most popular young men at Yale.

Boy Scouts to Hunt in Africa.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Two Boy Scouts are going to have an opportunity to hunt big game in Africa next summer, the national office of the Boy Scouts of America announces. The hunting is to be with cameras, however, and not with guns. The 700 scout executives all over the United States have been asked to name candidates who have given evidence of outstanding physical, mental and moral qualifications for such a trip. From these, two will be chosen to go to Africa as guests of George Palmer Putnam, publisher, and his son, David Binney Putnam, with the Martin Johnson party.

SENATE INQUIRES INTO CLIQUE IN KELLOGG'S OFFICE

Subcommittee Investigates Charge that Favoritism Shown in Filling Diplomatic Posts.

OLIGARCHY LAID TO PERSONNEL BOARD

Its Members Accused of Taking Choice Places—Davies Attacked System in St. Louis Speech.

Post-Dispatch, Bureau, 29-33 Wyatt Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Hearings that have been private to the point of secretiveness have been held for the last week by a subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee investigating the State Department's promotion system and its alleged favoritism in behalf of the "white spot" clique and against the politically or socially less influential members of the diplomatic and consular services.

The subcommittee, consisting of Senator Moses (Rep.) of New Hampshire, who was chosen because of his former experience in the diplomatic service; Senator Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania; and Senator Harrison (Dem.) of Mississippi. Its meetings have been held at night behind closed doors. From the testimony so far developed, however, the committee is not only persuaded that a powerful clique, virtually self-perpetuating, dominates dispensation of all the plums in the foreign service but that legislation is imperatively needed to curb the situation.

Complaints have been sent to the President from inside the diplomatic service that a State Department "oligarchy" was taking all the cream for itself. Rumors have been heard for some time from the consular service, which was supposed to be put on an even footing with the diplomatic service under the Rogers reorganization act of 1924.

That the equality intended by the act has never been accorded was admitted by Secretary of State Kellogg last July in a letter to the House Foreign Affairs Committee disclosing that 70 per cent of the diplomatic higher-ups had received promotions, while but 36 per cent of the men in the consular service had been advanced. Though out of 450 members of the foreign service all but 110 are in the consular branch, 76 diplomats had received promotions, while only 118 consular service men were recognized.

The Senate subcommittee has either heard or is to examine the members of the Foreign Service Personnel Board of which Under-Secretary of State Robert E. Olds now is chairman, the other members being, under the system, Assistant Secretaries Wilbur J. Carr and William R. Castle.

Personnel Board Taker Posts. This is the board that determines preferences. Criticism has been leveled at the fact that the personnel board as constituted under the system dealt out to itself during the past year four of the best foreign posts in the service. "A year ago Joseph C. Grew, then under-secretary, headed the personnel board. He became Ambassador to Turkey. The then assistant secretary, Leland Harrison, another of the personnel board, took the post of Minister to Sweden. A third member of the board, J. Butler Wright, became Minister to Hungary. Hugh R. Wilson, who was then chairman of the personnel board's executive committee, received the portfolio of Minister to Switzerland.

As now being operated, this system of having the personnel board constituted and organized as to be able to reward its own members spells discrimination against men in the field or at foreign posts. According to the complaints which figured the Senate committee to action. The grumblings about the methods have spread wherever the United States has an embassy or consulate.

The echoes have ranged from charges that "cookie-pushers," "white spots" or "tea-house" experts were climbing into the most important seats abroad in the foreign service, to the graver counts against entrusting the nation's increasingly important foreign relations to men lacking experience, familiarity with the language, habits and conditions of the nations to which they are sent.

Spain Decries Tariff Equality. MADRID, Jan. 30.—Tariff equality in Spain for all countries has been decreed by Premier Primo de Rivera. For this reason the Premier has announced a customs pact with Switzerland will be announced and a new treaty similar to treaties recently concluded with other countries will be signed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Hear-

ACTIVITIES OF COMMUNISTS IN MINE STRIKE POSSIBLE SOURCE OF VIOLENT ACTION

As Pennsylvania Deadlock Continues, Radicals Push Efforts to Counteract Peace Policy of Union.

By BASIL MANLY.
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 30.—The attempts of the Communists, working through the Trade Union Educational League and the camouflaged Pennsylvania-Ohio-Colorado Miners' Relief Committee, to sow
the seeds of their doctrine among the 100,000 miners on strike in the bituminous coal fields are regarded by many operators and union officials as constituting a definite menace.

Up to the present time, this strike in the coal fields of Central and Western Pennsylvania, Ohio
and Northern West Virginia has been free from large scale violence.
There have been clashes between strikers and strike-breakers and strikers and coal and iron police,
but no lives have been lost and few persons have been seriously injured. Officials of the United Mine Workers in charge of the strike,
under the direction of Philip Murray, international vice-president,
have issued repeated statements
to their organizers and to the rank and file of the striking miners, cautioning them against violence. So far these warnings have been reasonably effective.

Communists Making Progress.
The radical Communists, avowed advocates of revolutionary action,
now are busy in every district of the coal fields. In spite of the efforts of the United Mine Workers' officers, they are unquestion-ably making some progress. For the present those who are directing this propaganda are directing by-laws prohibiting any communist or I. W. W. from holding a union card, they are there. Working under cover, they carry out the traditional communist tactics of
"hoisting flags" and "sowing seeds."
Doing everything possible to discredit
the regular trade union officials.

Colorado Strikes Under I. W. W.
The dangerous possibilities
of this situation are to be seen in
the strike now being conducted in the Colorado coal fields under I. W. W.
leadership, where half a dozen
have been killed and a score seriously injured.

Philip Murray, who is in charge
of the strike headquarters at Pittsburgh, when questioned about the
activities of the communists, said:
"The disruptive tactics of the
communists who are now becoming
active in this district are not new.
They are encountered by the United Mine Workers in every strike.
The union has been fighting the
growth of revolutionary radicalism
as manifested by the I. W. W. and communism for 20 years and we shall continue to do so. I do not believe they have made any substantial headway among the union
miners. What may happen, however, if the operators continue indefinitely to refuse to negotiate
for the settlement of this strike,
no one can foretell."

More definite concern about the
situation was expressed by one of
the operators, who refused to permit his name to be used, but who
is generally regarded as fair-
minded and far-sighted.

Favored by Some Operators.
"Some of my friends are in the
operators' ranks," he said, "and
the growing activities of the communists in this district with some degree of satisfaction. They know
the communists' disruptive activities are causing the union officials
much trouble and diverting their
attention from the effective conduct of the strike. They believe
also that the communists' silly
charges that 'wits, Murray and
other officials are getting on the
union funds are being believed by
some of the rank and file and destroying their confidence in their leaders. They feel that in a sense
this is industrial war and that
propaganda from any source that
weakens the enemy's morale is justified."

"That may be true for the moment, but in the long run, I think
their judgment is bad. Chickens
will come home to roost."
"If I had my way the operators
would assist the union in checking
the dangerous activities of the communists. There is only a handful of them today, but with 100,000 miners on strike and almost as many more idle as a result of the depression in other industries, they will grow like weeds.
They are a menace not only to the
operators and the union, but to
the entire community. The sooner
we are rid of them the better."

PREMIER GREETES COSGRAVE ON ARRIVAL IN OTTAWA

of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State.

families? Ask your president,
John L. Lewis. Ask Philip Murray. Ask any of your union officers. They know where this money went and they don't dare
tell you."

Urges Militant Action.
After thus attempting to undermine the confidence of the strikers in their leaders, the communist propagandists urge militant action "to bring the bosses to their knees and force a speedy settlement." They do not tell the strikers that the only result of such "militant action" would be to bring in the State or Federal troops and reduce further the possibilities of a reasonable settlement.

This propaganda is being disseminated by the communists
through three main channels.
First, the Trade Union Educational League, founded by William Z. Foster with the aid and confidence of the Third Internationale at Moscow. A Pittsburgh branch of the league was organized Jan. 16 under the direction of Jack Johnstone, national organizer. It also is active in other districts.

The second channel of propaganda is the so-called Pennsylvania-
Ohio-Colo-Colorado Miners' Relief Committee, with national headquarters at 799 Broadway, New York. Behind the charitable camouflage of this organization, the propagandists are working actively.

Third, and perhaps most effective of all, are the communists
within the ranks of the miners' union itself. In spite of the clauses in the union's constitution
and by-laws prohibiting any communist or I. W. W. from holding a
union card, they are there. Working under cover, they carry out the
traditional communist tactics of
"hoisting flags" and "sowing seeds."

Doing everything possible to discredit
the regular trade union officials.
Colorado Strikes Under I. W. W.
The dangerous possibilities
of this situation are to be seen in
the strike now being conducted in the Colorado coal fields under I. W. W.
leadership, where half a dozen
have been killed and a score seriously injured.

Philip Murray, who is in charge
of the strike headquarters at Pittsburgh, when questioned about the
activities of the communists, said:
"The disruptive tactics of the
communists who are now becoming
active in this district are not new.
They are encountered by the United Mine Workers in every strike.
The union has been fighting the
growth of revolutionary radicalism
as manifested by the I. W. W. and
communism for 20 years and we shall continue to do so. I do not believe they have made any substantial headway among the union
miners. What may happen, however, if the operators continue in-
definitely to refuse to negotiate
for the settlement of this strike,
no one can foretell."

situation was expressed by one of
the operators, who refused to permit his name to be used, but who
is generally regarded as fair-
minded and far-sighted.

Favored by Some Operators.
"Some of my friends are in the
operators' ranks," he said, "and
the growing activities of the communists in this district with some
degree of satisfaction. They know
the communists' disruptive activities are causing the union officials
much trouble and diverting their
attention from the effective conduct of the strike. They believe
also that the communists' silly
charges that 'wits, Murray and
other officials are getting on the
union funds are being believed by
some of the rank and file and de-
stroying their confidence in their
leaders. They feel that in a sense
this is industrial war and that
propaganda from any source that
weakens the enemy's morale is
justified."

"That may be true for the moment, but in the long run, I think
their judgment is bad. Chickens
will come home to roost."
"If I had my way the operators
would assist the union in checking
the dangerous activities of the communists. There is only a handful of them today, but with 100,000 miners on strike and al-
most as many more idle as a result of the depression in other industries, they will grow like weeds.
They are a menace not only to the
operators and the union, but to
the entire community. The sooner

MEXICAN PLAN ON PAN-AMERICAN ELECTION BEATEN

Proposal to Annually Rotate Alphabetically Head of Governing Board Is Voted Down.

HUGHES SAYS U. S. SEEKS NO FAVORS

American Delegates Also Opposed to Making Union a Harmonizer for Member Nations.

By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, Jan. 30.—The Pan-American Union Committee today defeated a Mexican amendment to the Pan-American constitution
providing that the chairman of the governing board of the union be annually rotated alphabetically to all the countries represented.

The report was presented by Jacobo Varela, Uruguayan minister to the United States, and suggested that the maintenance of the free elective system, the governing board be upheld. The vote was unanimous with the exception of Mexico.

Denouncing any suggestion that the United States claims any especially pre-eminent position in the governing board of the Pan-American Union, Charles Evans Hughes,
chief of the American delegation,
opposed the Mexican proposal.

Salvador, Uruguayan minister to the United States, introduced the motion to amend the constitution, which since all countries are juridically equal and since the nations and not individuals were represented on the governing board, the occupation of the chairmanship by all who had a right to it was necessary so that it would not be said that one country was more pre-eminent and intelligent than another.

Wishes No Special Place.
"The United States requires no
special privileges," said Hughes. "I am sure that I can speak for the Secretary of State and the American delegation in saying that the United States has no special position of prominence or pre-eminence but as colleagues and comrades in fostering Pan-Americanism."

"We have great resources and power. We make no apologies for them. We rejoice in them and with their benefit shared by others,
but the American people wish that when we enter into relations with other countries we do so in the fellowship of community of interests."

Hughes added that he thought the chairmanship of the board which thus far has been held by the American Secretary of State, should be elective since the fullest discussion and sincerity should be allowed there. "We can still afford to be candid and to be friendly,"
he said.

Elective System Favored.
Uruguay, Argentina, Ecuador
and the Dominican Republic all expressed views favoring the elective system as prevails now, asserting that special occasions might arise in which a freedom of vote
might be only available provision against some particular situation.

Immediately after the vote on the rotation of the chairmanship
of the governing board, the Mexican delegate withdrew a further amendment to apply the same principle to the Director-Generalship, now held by Dr. Leo S. Rowe of the United States, saying that he would withhold the proposal until the next Pan-American Congress.

The committee thereupon voted on the Varela report that the present organization of the Pan-American Union, with a permanent director-general, be maintained.

Arbitral Power an Issue.
The question whether the Pan-American Union should continue to present nonpolitical character or assume the role of arbitrator in American disputes was before the Pan-American Conference today.

Proposals from Cuba, Salvador and Colombia are aimed at the harmonizing among American publics despite the clearly indicated policy of the United States against any proposal giving political significance to the union.

Burial of the Heart of Thomas Hardy

While the ashes of Thomas Hardy, British poet and novelist, were being interred in the Westminster Abbey, his heart was buried in the churchyard at Stinsford, in his native Dorset.

LAST VETERAN OF ITALIAN WAR OF 1848 DIES AT 102

He Fought at Peschiera and Novara Under Grandfather of Present Monarch.

By the Associated Press.
VARZI, Italy, Jan. 30.—By the death of Andrea Botti, at the age of 102, Italy has lost its last soldier of the '48 period.

Botti campaigned at Peschiera
and Novara under King Charles-Albert of Sardinia, great-grandfather of the present monarch.
When the Sardinian King abdicated in favor of his famous son, Victor Emmanuel II, later to become the first sovereign of United Italy,
the veteran Botti emulated an earlier Italian warrior Cincinnatus, and took up farming.

Charles-Albert, according to Botti, was the greatest soldier and handsomest gentleman that ever lived. For him, he was the only captain who counted.

When distinguished visitors would come to him for details of the "Risorgimento" struggle
through which he fought, and finally arrived at the question, "Botti, did you ever see the King?" He would straighten up to "attention," remove his old red bandanna from his head, and reply:

"Yes, and he was a handsome and taller man than you."

COSTES AND LEBRIX REACH MEXICO CITY ON WAY TO U. S.

French Diplomats Welcomed by Calles and Dignitaries Corps; New Orleans Next Stop.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30.—Mexico City which was the first stop for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his good will tour, today entertained two French flyers who will make a nonstop flight from here to New Orleans en route to New York.

Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Le-brix, flying from Guatemala City, Guatemala, yesterday, covering the 670 miles in seven hours and 26 minutes. On arrival at Valbuena Field they were greeted by President Calles and his staff, Juan Baptista Purier, French Minister, representatives of South American countries and Dwight W.
Morrow, American Ambassador. A crowd of 10,000 persons acclaimed them.

Still attired in their flying togs
they were driven into the city
through a shower of confetti, flowers and colored tape. Frequently the Frenchmen caught the flowers
and tossed them back to the crowd.
They said they had encountered
fog, heavy clouds and rain.

HUNGARIAN PRIMATE INSTALLED

Cardinal Seredi Takes Office Before Crowd at Budapest.

By the Associated Press.
BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 30.—
The new Primate of Hungary,
Cardinal Seredi, was solemnly installed today in the Cathedral of Gran in the presence of the highest dignitaries of church, state and army. The congregation numbered about 5,000.

After the ceremony of installation Cardinal Seredi said in his sermon, "Perhaps never in the history of Hungary has the head of the church assumed office under safer circumstances, for the Hungarian people are now suffering
under dire wrongs, and the duty
therefore falls upon me to lead you toward a happier future attainable
only by love and solidarity."

PLOT AGAINST CAROL HINTED

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 30.—A Vienna
dispatch to the Daily Express today
hints that there is a plot afoot in Paris against the life of former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania.
Michael Mircea, an emissary of Carol, between him and his friends
in Rumania for the past 18 months,
is now in Vienna.

HOUSE LEADER AGAINST REVISION OF TARIFF

Task Couldn't Be Completed Before Election, Representative Tilson Says.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The threat of another Senate move to force a revision of the tariff this session was followed yesterday by a declaration from Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican House leader, against any readjustment of import duties at the present time.

Supporting the position of President Coolidge, the House majority leader said that attempted tariff revision four months before the first of the big political conventions
"would in all human probability mean the beginning of a task that could not be completed before the presidential election."

"In addition to reports from the Senate on a move by the Democrats and Republican Independents to attack tariff revision legislation to the tax reduction bill when that measure reaches the floor, Republican leaders also are faced with a demand from the House Republican farm bloc for a revision upward of the import duties on agricultural products."

House Kills Revision.
Administration forces in the House where tariff legislation must originate were successful in sidetracking the recent Senate request for a downward revision of "excessive" tariff rates.

A protective tariff has become
what we may call the accepted American policy," Tilson said, "so that while rates may well be changed as conditions change the policy itself should not be altered or endangered. Whenever the tariff is revised it should be revised by its friends, so that it may be done along protection lines and on protectionist principles."

"The tariff is in fact a business matter, and any revision of it should be made in as nearly a business manner as possible. It should not be undertaken except under favorable circumstances, because even when carried out under the most favorable conditions there is apt to result some business disturbance."

"Such revision should be removed as far as possible from the influence of politics, and carried on as nearly as possible on business principles. Changes in conditions of production at home and abroad have occurred since the last tariff revision in 1922 that doubtless call for certain readjustments of rates in the next revision,
but a partial revision of any one schedule is impracticable under existing conditions."

SEEK REED DELEGATES IN EAST
Backers of Missouri Senator to Work in New England.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The New York Times says that plans to seek delegates in New England states and in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, were under discussion by friends of United States Senator Reed of Missouri, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

A survey by Samuel W. Fordyce of St. Louis, chairman of the Missouri Democratic Committee, and Lee Meriwether, vice chairman, in the interest of Reed's candidacy,
the Times says, was said to have shown there was some chance of getting a few Reed delegates in those states, particularly in New England. Convinced that New York State would be solidly for Smith, the Times says, Senator
Reed's friends have decided definitely not to make any attempts for delegates here.

MORROW TO SEEK EASY TERMS FOR MEXICAN LOAN

U. S. Ambassador Back
From Havana, Also to Take Up American Oil
and Land Claims.

CONFERS WITH AGENT OF COMMISSION

Will Try to Have Small Owners Repaid First—Finding Cash for Settlement Is Chief Task.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
and New York World.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30.—Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow returned here yesterday from Havana full of optimism over the Pan-American conference and ready to plunge again into the problems between the United States and Mexico.

For the first time since he arrived in Mexico as Ambassador, Morrow talked for publication. He broke his rule because he wanted to clearly understand the problems between the United States and Mexico.

He is sure he will be able to work out satisfactory solutions of the various problems he will take up with President Calles. One of the first will be putting into operation the amended petroleum laws guaranteeing American companies
legal protection against confiscation
of property acquired before the Constitution of 1917.

For this purpose Morrow called to Mexico Reuben C. Clark, agent of the American-Mexican Special Claims Commission and an authority on international law. Morrow was in conference with Clark yesterday morning.

Morrow's Set Alms.
The Ambassador also will try to aid in the coming discussions between the International Bankers'
Committee and Finance Minister Luis Montiel de Oca. He will try to obtain for Mexico as favorable
a basis as possible in the arrangement which will be made anew
for taking care of interest payments on Mexico's foreign debt.

Morrow will then strive to bring about speedy compensation of American land owners in Mexico
who have been deprived of their property. The job will be to find the cash that will enable the Mexican government to settle with this class of claimants.

Morrow will also seek to get the same principles for application to the alien land act as the Supreme Court laid down in the oil cases;
namely, respect for the pre-constitutional rights of property owners.

"The honeymoon is over," Morrow said. "First let me be set right about my reasons for leaving the Pan-American conference. I was sorry to leave so shortly after its organization, but I had arranged to return to Mexico before February. Having been at my post such a short time, President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg agreed with me that it was right for me to return."

"The spirit of the conference at Havana is excellent. This is due primarily to the unusual body of delegates that have been assembled from the various nations represented there."

Praises Hughes Ability.
"The conference is fortunate in having as its chairman Dr. Bustaments of Cuba, one of the foremost international jurists in the world.
The United States is represented by an able, non-partisan group headed by Charles E. Hughes, who is, in my opinion, the best equipped man in the United States to speak for his country in the Pan-American conference."

"His high character, his great wisdom and his ripe experience
have very naturally made a deep impression upon all the members of the conference. Moreover, he entered the conference not to serve the special interests of his own country, but because of his real interest in the problems that come before any conference of Pan-American nations. He is not only an asset to his own country, but for the whole Pan-American group.
I feel confident the conference
will accomplish some real results.
These will not be measured merely by the definite resolutions which will be finally agreed upon, although those will be a great step in advance."

One great result of the conference which is difficult to measure will be the better spirit which will result from a frank discussion of the problems by such a group of representative men. This will be especially true because the discussion is in a spirit of accommodation and not in a spirit of hostile criticism.

While I was sorry to leave Havana I am very glad to be back in Mexico."

WOMAN CONFESSES SENDING OF THREATENING LETTERS

Business Men of Frankfort, Ind., Told Their Wives Would Meet Death Unless They Met Demands.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Jan. 29.—A young married woman was held by police after she admitted sending threatening letters to prominent Frankfort men in an effort to get money. The young woman, Mrs. Fay E. Brinberry, 23 years old, even sent a letter to her husband from whom she is estranged, in order, she said, to divert suspicion. In a confession she said she was the writer of five letters which the police had made public. The letters threatened the recipients' wives with death unless certain sums of money were left in designated places. Authorities intimated she may be turned over to Federal authorities. Her husband, Virgil Brinberry, refused to make a statement. Mrs. Brinberry said she selected names from the city directory. Amounts from $10 to $150 were demanded, but when decoy packages were left at the specified spots they were not called for.

MAYOR WALKER HAS BEEN ON WATER WAGON FOUR MONTHS

New York Official, on Diet, Is Forbidden to Drink Alcoholic Beverages, He Admits.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Mayor Walker has been on the "water-wagon" since September, according to the Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reiser, pastor of the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal Church, who told his congregation about it yesterday with some pride.

The Rev. Mr. Reiser, in his sermon yesterday, quoted the Mayor as follows: "I drink neither champagne nor alcohol in any form, nor have I since last September. My health is very much better without it. Then, too, while I enjoyed the exhilarating high spots from alcoholic spirits, the low spots of the next morning collected a heavy toll."

"I find it more agreeable as well as healthier, to walk on the even pathway without the stimulant. And, by the way, the most enjoyable dinner I ever attended in New York was the one you invited me to a year ago, given by 2200 Methodists. It proved to me that people at a 'dry' dinner could be hilarious and jovial, and that all prohibitionists were not long-faced."

Mayor Walker verified Dr. Reiser's statements and explained he had been on a diet which prohibits the use of alcohol in any form. He said his meals usually consist of a little chicken and a cup of tea. He added that his physician has also forbidden coffee.

JILTED BY MILLIONAIRE, WOMAN WANTS $200,000

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—The eleventh-hour cancellation of the proposed marriage of Miss Ann Livingston, 26 years old, divorcee of Tulsa, Ok., and Franklin S. Harding, 61, millionaire Chicago manufacturer, may have its aftermath in court, Attorney Emil G. Wetter said, unless Harding agrees to settle for $200,000.

"Miss Livingston is broken-hearted and greatly humiliated," the attorney said. Two diamond rings and a packet of love letters from Harding are her only consolation, he said.

The reason the wedding did not take place Miss Livingston refused to sign a contract waiving her rights to the Harding fortune. It was reported that she was to have received $100,000 upon the death of Harding.

Relative of the manufacturer said that Harding asked Miss Livingston to sign a prenuptial agreement to test her love. The romance, they said, began last summer, when the couple met on the observation platform of a train.

MERGER OF AMERICAN TRUST AND FRANKLIN BANK EXPECTED

Discussions of a possible joining of the Franklin Bank and the American Trust Co. have reached a point where formal announcement of a merger is expected shortly.

It is understood that if the deal is completed the Franklin Bank, now at Washington avenue and Broadway, would move into the American Trust Co. banking rooms at Seventh and Locust streets, with James L. Ford, president of the Franklin Bank, as head of the merged institutions.

C. L. Sager, recently elected president of the American Trust to succeed Henry H. Hopkins, who resigned in December, would be first vice president if the institutions are merged, it is understood. The Franklin Bank has $1,300,000 capital and $14,650,993 deposits, while the American Trust Co. has $1,000,000 capital and deposits of $14,426,923.

DROP COMPANIONATE DIVORCE AND REUNITE

Cleveland Pair Tire of Purely Business Basis on Which They Lived.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 30.—The "companionate divorce" of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Hummer is all off. Florian Hummer, "managing financier" of the matrimonial firm of Hummer & Hummer, never did like the "ideal arrangement" worked out for them by Judge Harrison Ewing.

The wife, Clara Hummer, thought it splendid—for a few weeks. Then the title "managing housekeeper" became more hateful than "wife." There were lonely evenings in the room made all her own by the "divorce decree," because "nights off," which she did not use, and exasperating evenings of addressing her former husband as "Mr. Hummer."

So they went back to Judge Ewing and he disclosed that they were not truly divorced and obligingly vacated the tentative decree. Harmony now reigns in the $40,000 home in which the Hummers reside with their three children.

The wife, who craved unrestricted freedom and thought it would be fun to be merely a housekeeper, told of the experiment. She wiped away her tears and smiled as she pointed to a framed poem given her by her husband:

"We flatter those who scarcely know.
"We please the fleeting guest.
"And deal full many a thoughtless blow
"To those we love the best."

"Much nicer to be a wife.
"It's much better to be a man's wife than merely his housekeeper," said she. "He'll be home soon, and I can greet him with a hug and kiss. That's much nicer than a formal bow."

"Who planned this 'ideal arrangement' to which you and Mr. Hummer agreed?" she was asked. "Judge Ewing. When I applied for a divorce, he said we should think of the children and not be so selfish. As there was no other man in the case, he didn't see why we couldn't live in the same house, even though we were no longer man and wife. I was to take care of the house, prepare the meals and assume charge of the children. Florian was to pay the bills."

"Did you draw a line through the house and prohibit your husband from stepping over the boundary?"

"Of course not. They only do that in the movies. He had access to every room in the house with the exception of my bedroom and the kitchen. It was fun for a while. We talked together and ate together. Our mutual friends visited with us. Outside of that, however, there was a strict barrier drawn between Florian and me. It was hard for me to remember not to call him 'Dad,' and when I attempted to say 'Mister' the word seemed to stick in my throat. Several times I was so lonely and morose that I had to fight to keep from throwing myself into Florian's arms."

"Under the terms of the 'ideal arrangement' you were entitled to two nights off each week?"

"Did Not Use Her 'Nights Off.'
"Yes, but I seldom left the house after dark. I thought I would like to go and come as I pleased, but when it was made possible, evenings of freedom were no longer fascinating."

"All our troubles started over petty squabbles. They piled up. Then the climax. He was rough to me one night when I returned home later than expected. I couldn't stand that, so I left. I went to my father's home and thought Florian would come after me, but he didn't. He's awfully stubborn. Perhaps that has been the cause of our troubles. We both hate to give in."

"After waiting several weeks, hoping that he would ask me to come back, I filed a divorce petition. The trial came and I was given this 'companionate divorce.' On Christmas eve I came home to find a tree and all its trimmings aglow in the front room. Florian had done his job as Santa Claus and presents were piled high on the table. He had gone to his room. If he had been there I believe I would have forgotten about our divorce. The framed poem was one of the presents he gave me. After reading it I went to bed and cried. Christmas day we played and sang and had a wonderful dinner. In fact, our reconciliation started on that day."

Judge Ewing had this to add to the story: "I was confident that if I kept them under the same roof they would patch up their differences." The Judge repeated his mother-in-law's warning to him when he and his bride departed on a honeymoon some 20 years ago. It was, "Remember, never let two little bears get out of the house, 'bear' and 'forbear.'"

PUBLIC MEETING TO BOOST SALE OF ILLINOIS COAL

Union Officers to Speak at Belleville City Hall for More Work for Home Miners.

A public meeting to "boost the sale of Illinois coal" will be held in the city hall at Belleville Friday night upon call of officials of the Belleville subdistrict of the Illinois United Mine Workers.

Business men, manufacturers and civic organizations will be told why they should purchase Illinois coal in preference to coal from Kentucky and other States. The miners' officials declare that buying coal in other States keeps the miners in those States busy while the miners of Illinois remain idle except for one or two days a week.

President Harry Fishwick and Secretary-Treasurer Walter Nesbitt of the Illinois miners and A. C. Lewis, counsel for the miners, will speak at the meeting. Similar meetings are being held throughout Southern Illinois.

24 SEEKING PAROLES, SEVEN FROM ST. LOUIS

Hearings Set Before State Board; One Jail Prisoner
on List.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 30.—
Applications for parole of 24 convicts, including seven St. Louisans, will be heard by the State Penal Board here on Feb. 13 and 14.
Parole Commissioner T. S. Mosby
announced today.

The board also will consider the parole request of Forest Smith of Neesho, Newton County, who was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail for transporting liquor, although the board does not have jurisdiction over jail sentence cases. Smith's application was referred to the Board by Gov.
Baker.

The docket is unusual in that many convicts on the list are serving short terms. Eight of the men to receive hearings have served less than a year in prison on sentences ranging from two to seven years.

The St. Louis convicts, the time they have served and duration of sentence follows:

Dan Russell, two years and seven months of a 25-year sentence for a statutory offense.

Gilbert Hare, one year and two months of a seven-year sentence
for a statutory offense.

James Walsh, one year and nine months of a five-year sentence for robbery.

Milburn Reagan, 18 months of a three-year sentence for burglary
and felonious wounding.

Clarence Gadsby, four years and six months of a 12-year sentence
for burglary and larceny.

Harry Novack, 11 months of a five-year sentence for robbery.

Bolden Scott, two years and two months of a four-year sentence for stealing an automobile.

The board granted a hearing to Melvin Rowe of Kansas City who has been in prison four months of a six-year sentence for grand larceny. David Dwyer, Kansas City
forger, and Lloyd M. Wilson, Jefferson City burglar, are almost as fortunate, having served seven months each on five-year sentences.

Bert Whittaker of Andrew County, under life sentence for murder, gets a hearing after four years and two months in prison.

Others on the docket and their offenses and sentences are: Gerald Pearce, Kansas City, robbery,
five years; Harrison Bryant, Stodard County, manufacturing whisky, five years; R. R. Sines, Davies, stealing automobile, five years;
Willie Phillips, Mississippi County,
burglary, four years; Walter Gill,
St. Joseph, grand larceny, two years; John Birns, Cooper County,
grand larceny, four years; Odis Spencer, Kansas City, robbery, seven years; Jewell Laughlin, Butler County, stealing chickens, four years; Harold Sweeney, Gentry County, burglary and breaking jail, 11 years; Herbert Weaver,
Scott County, burglary, four years;
Sigman Travers, Kansas City, larceny, seven years; Chester Wood, Dekalb County, robbery, five years,
and James George, Kansas City, robbery, 15 years.

STATLER HOTELS TO EQUIP ALL ROOMS WITH RADIO

Service to Be Inaugurated Feb. 8
With Program by 11 Orchestras of System Over WEA.

The seven Statler Hotels in six cities of the United States have been equipped with radio receiving plants and each room in each hotel will have either its head phones or loud speaker. Loud speakers also will be placed in the public and private dining rooms of the hotels. The Statler system represents 7700 hotel rooms, and the total cost of installation for the chain is said to be about $1,- 000,000.

Radio service will be inaugurated on the evening of Feb. 8, between 7 and 8 o'clock, St. Louis time, with a program, sent out over WEA, furnished entirely by 11 Statler orchestras. Each hotel will have two master receiving sets, and the occupant of a room
may make his choice between them.

By the Associated Press.
MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—The train bearing William T. Cosgrave, head of the Irish Free State, Ottawa, left the tracks 23 miles from Ottawa this afternoon, but the car bearing the president and his party remained upright.

The derailment was caused by a switch at Limoges, Ontario. Another train was dispatched from Ottawa to complete the presidential party's trip to the Canadian capital.

Minneapolis Editor at White House
By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Frederick E. Murphy, publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, was received by President Coolidge today. He said after his call that there was considerable sentiment for Frank O. Lowden in Minnesota, but that in many sections, Secretary of Commerce Hoover was preferred.
He added, however, that the people of Minnesota hoped that the President could be induced to run again.

DEPUTY SLAIN, OFFICER SHOT

By the Associated Press.
WAURIKA, Ok., Jan. 30.—Louis
Harwell, 50 years old, a Deputy Sheriff, was fatally wounded and Arthur Hood, a Constable, was seriously injured in a shooting affray
at Addington, near here, Satur-

RULES AND INFORMATION:

THE ESSAY. "Cookery of Colonial Days" to tell an interesting story of the foods eaten by the Colonial people in America.
The essay may tell of the foods of only one Colony or one Colonial family or it may tell of several. Some of the things they had to eat, how the food was prepared, where they obtained it, how they served it, how a family gathered at the table
—these are all subjects that may be written about, and there are others which would be interesting. The essay will be judged on historical interest, composition and neatness.

LENGTH OF ESSAY not to be over 400 words.

WHO MAY COMPETE. Any pupil, under 16 years, in school, who lives in St. Louis, south of Wabash and Terminal Railway tracks, Forest Park or Clayton Road and east of Big Bend Road.

NAME of the writer, age, school, home address and the name and address of the grocer from whom entry blank is obtained must accompany the essay.

CONTEST CLOSES February 20. Essays postmarked before midnight of that date only will be considered.

THE PRIZES. A First Prize, a Second Prize and a Third Prize will be awarded in each of three districts. Entry blank to be had from grocer gives full particulars.

WHO WILL JUDGE the essays: A committee to be appointed by an accredited organization will pass upon the merits of the essays and select the winning ones.

Even if you do not win one of the larger prizes, yours may be the best one coming with name of the grocery where you obtained your entry blank, and thus it would get a prize.

EDITOR OF STATE JOURNAL, LINCOLN, NEB., DIES IN CHURCH
Was One of Newspaper Men Who Toured Europe Last Summer to Study Conditions.
LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 30.—Will Owen Jones, 66 years old, editor of the Nebraska State Journal, died yesterday in church. Physicians said death was the result of a heart attack.
Mr. Jones had been connected with the Journal more than 40 years. He is survived by his widow and a grown daughter.
He was one of a group of editors who last summer made an extended tour of the countries of Europe, studying post-war conditions in a trip sponsored by the Carnegie Peace Foundation.

BAY IN CATHEDRAL IS DEDICATED IN HONOR OF SPORTS
Windows in St. John Divine Edifice in New York Depict Athletics as Necessary to Life.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Hailed as a brother of religion for the universality of its appeal, sport was enshrined for the first time, yesterday in an American cathedral. Before a distinguished group of church and laymen, including many of the outstanding figures in American sport, the Sports Bay of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine was formally presented and dedicated.

$150,000 COLLECTED THROUGHOUT NATION

Bishop Manning and Secretary of War Davis at Pompous Ceremony in Unfinished Structure.

The event was designed to provide striking testimony of the force and importance of sport and the enlightened and friendly attitude of the Christian religion as it lives in this modern day.
A procession of several hundred gathered at Old Synod Hall. Led by Col. Charles E. Warren, his aids and the police band, the procession soon began a slow and majestic march to the nave of the cathedral, now nearing completion.

A Colorful Parade.
It made a colorful parade, the Veterans Corps of Artillery in brilliant red following closely on the band, with the choir, clergy, trustees, Bishop William T. Manning and representatives of American sports in line. Each sport was represented by a group of marchers carrying banners bearing such legends as "Football," "Golf," "Tennis," "Track and Field," "Cycling," even "Sports Editors."

Before the first bay on the left Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Sports and Games Committee and a power in American tennis, formally reported that $150,000 for the completion of the bay had been raised.
War Secretary Speaks.
The procession moved into the Cathedral, where a brief service celebrating the dedication was completed. After prayer, Bishop Manning introduced Dwight F. Davis, Secretary of War, who spoke of the advance of sport and its need for a greater spiritual guidance. No firmer bond of understanding between peoples and nations can be fostered, he said, than their meetings on the common ground of sport.

The Bishop then entered the pulpit himself, to describe the bay as a noble and most striking symbol of the fact that sports and games have their true and important place in life, and that they are pleasing and acceptable to God.
Bishop Manning cited three "great things the sports bay stands for and will powerfully teach," as follows:
"It is a witness against that mistaken view of religion which was expressed in the Puritan Sabbath and in the old Blue Laws."

God Interested in Our Work.
"It proclaims that God is interested in all that concerns us, in our games and pleasures as well as in our work and prayers, and so religion must be in touch with the whole of life, with all our interests and concerns."
"It reminds us that the Christian religion is in sympathy with the joy and freedom and adventure of youth as well as with the needs and trials and sorrows that life brings. The sports bay is a symbol of the place of youth in the life of the church. I believe the multitudes of young men and women and boys and girls of all faiths from all over our land who visit the Cathedral will be interested to see the sports bay and that it will give its message to them."

FORMER HUSBAND SOUGHT IN KILLING OF WOMAN'S ESCORT
Tennessee Contractor Stabbed by Man Hiding Behind Divan
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 30.—Frank M. Sawyer Jr., 28 years old, a contractor, was stabbed to death Saturday night, and Henry Scaif today was sought as his assailant. According to Miss Lucille Stanger, she and Miss Bess Taylor, divorced wife of Scaif, were returning from a shopping trip when Sawyer drove by in his motor car and offered to take them home.
On arrival at their house they found Scaif hiding behind a divan. Miss Stanger said he threatened to kill all three, then leaped at Sawyer and stabbed him. Miss Taylor fled, while Miss Stanger called for help.

Long-life is a matter of substantial building
It is easy to build for a day. It is difficult to build a thing that will withstand hard usage for unnumbered years. But it is not only because of its durability that the pen with the little white dot has had its outstanding success. It is a real achievement in art. It is a faithful performer, instantly responding to the lightest touch, yet capable of making several carbon copies. With its brilliant radite barrel and its Sheafferized nib, it is built for a lifetime of hard service and the enduring enjoyment that comes from real beauty.

Elevens Battle Two Hours in Cup Game—Fall River Advances to Third Round.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—After two hours of continuous play at Hawthorne Field in Brooklyn between the Brooklyn Wanderers and Bethlehem in the second round of the U. S. F. A. cup competition yesterday, no decision was reached. Each side had scored a goal when the two regular periods of 45 minutes each had been concluded. With the score at 1-1 and the light beginning to fail, the teams were ordered by Referee Lambie to turn around for the extra periods of 15 minutes each. At the end of the additional half hour the totals were the same and a replay of the game will be necessary.

Over 3000 soccer fans turned out to witness the important fixture. Archie Stark, Bethlehem's forward, opened the scoring in the first few minutes and the steel workers held their lead until midway in the second period when Jida, the center newly acquired by Brooklyn, equalized.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 29.—The Fall River American League team, present holders of the national challenge cup, defeated the Boston eleven, present American League champions, 2 to 1, in the second round of the national cup competition yesterday.

The most brilliant soccer battle of the season was presented, with the clubs appearing evenly matched. Fall River led by 1-0 at the close of the first half.

RIXEY ACCEPTS SALARY REDUCTION FROM REDS;
MAYS BALKS AT CUT

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 29.—Eppa Rixey, Cincinnati Reds' southpaw pitcher, has signed a contract for the current season at a reduced salary. The announcement yesterday said that Rixey, like most of the Red's high-salaried players, was given a stiff salary cut but that he agreed to terms without delay.

However, Pitcher Carl Mays, who also was sent a contract at a reduced rate, has returned the document unsigned.

Brandts and St. Thomas Clubs Meet Sunday for Carondelet Title—Palermos Not Scored Upon.

The regular schedules in all divisions of the Municipal Soccer League were completed yesterday, but division honors are yet to be definitely decided in the Carondelet No. 1 group.

The St. Thomas club, which had been tied with the Brandts for the lead in the Carondelet No. 1 group, kept one point ahead by defeating the Spanish Ideals yesterday afternoon, 2 to 0, in a play-off postponed from Jan. 1. The championship will be decided Sunday when the Brandts and the St. Thomas eleven meet in the deciding game.

The Brandts are likely to be weakened by the loss of Player Hoffman, who, with Manager Jimmy McAtty, was suspended in connection with a riot at Carondelet Park last Sunday. Public park officials have given no intimation that the suspensions will be lifted before the championship game.

What is believed will stand as a record for some time, was rolled up by the Palermos in winning the championship in Fairground No. 3 group. This team defeated the Hartmans yesterday afternoon, 5 to 0, and thereby closed the regular league season without having been scored upon during the entire season.

The Angelicas closed their regular season in Fairgrounds No. 2 group by winning from St. Matthews, 5 to 1, finishing the season in first place with a record of 10 victories, no defeats and four ties.

LAWETZKI GOES INTO
LEAD IN ALL-EVENTS
OF WISCONSIN TOURNEY

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 30.—S. Lawetzki of West Allis, Wis., yesterday took the lead in the singles and all events of the twenty-sixth annual Wisconsin State bowling tournament. Lawetzki gathered a 650 count for his singles with games of 228, 219 and 242. In the doubles, Lawetzki and a partner, a 628 count in the five-man event, gives him 1842 in the all-events.

Schaeffer to Box Chaney.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Frankie Schaeffer, Chicago's hard-hitting junior welterweight, will attempt another comeback tonight when he meets Joe Chaney of Baltimore in a 10-round match. Schaeffer lost to Spug Myers of Pocatello, Idaho, in his last bout.

SCARABEE CAPTURES
GRAND PRIX EVENT

By the Associated Press.
CANNES, France, Jan. 30.—British owners at present enjoy a monopoly of the fixtures in the winter racing on the Riviera. Scarabee, 5-year-old son of Chulo, out of Spring Song, belonging to Robert Appleton, trained by James Dutton and ridden by Lou M. Nieudot, took first place in the Grand Prix Steeplechase of the Municipal Council of Cannes yesterday. There were 11 starters. Odds were six to one for Scarabee. The distance was 3500 meters and the stakes were 100,000 francs. Scarabee made it in 4 minutes 21 seconds. Lehis was second and Louviere third.

Burglass, another Britisher, captured the Grand Prix at Nice last Sunday.

St. Genevieve 45, Almond 37.
STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo., Jan. 29.—The Ste. Genevieve Knights of Columbus team defeated the Mary's College (Kan.) alumni team of St. Louis here last night, 45 to 37. The score at the half was 21 to 17. Ste. Genevieve remained close until the fifth minutes before the final attack, when the K. C. forward, Okenfuss, scored 12 points in order.

CORN PRICES ADVANCE

IN TRADE AT CHICAGO

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Corn prices scored an advance today, largely as a result of scantiness of rural offerings. Estimates were current that 1927 corn production in 29 countries now stand at 3,316,770,000 bushels against 3,405,413,000 bushels in 1926. Wheat prices held within narrow limits, but averaged lower on seller's market by a shade to 1/4c net high.

At noon corn was 1/4c to 1/2c net high and wheat 1/4c to 1/2c off.

Corn prices advanced early today after a moderate initial rise.

Receipts of corn in Chicago, although large, failed to reach as heavy a total as had been looked for. Opening up soon rallied, going in some cases to above Saturday's finish. Wheat was easy, starting unchanged to 1/4c lower and subsequently holding near to that range; oats showed but little alteration. Provisions tended to decline.

Instead of arrivals of corn in Chicago today mounting up as had been predicted the carry estimate of receipts were for 700 cars. Arrivals at other markets however, were of liberal proportions, and sellers here had the advantage over buyers a good deal of the time. More over, later estimates of Chicago arrivals of corn put the day's receipts above 1000 cars.

Corn closed firm, 1/4c to 1/2c net high, unchanged to 1/4c advance, and provisions varying from 1/2c to 1/4c decline to a rise of 1/2c.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—An sudden outburst of buying in some of the public utilities checked a sharp reaction in today's stock market. Extreme declines in the standard industrials and railroads were limited to 3 points and in some of the volatile specialties from 4 to 15 points, but these were substantially reduced in the late buying movement. Total sales fell short of 2,500,000 shares.

Early selling was associated with uneasiness over the credit situation, which was emphasized by the marking up of the renewal rate on call money to 4 1/2 per cent, followed by a further advance to 5 per cent. Banks called about $25,000,000 in loans, presumably in preparation for month-end currency requirements. There was no change in time money and commercial paper rates.

Predictions of a poor quarterly report by the United States Steel Corporation on Tuesday, publication of another series of unfavorable December railroad earnings reports, decreasing public participation and a violent temporary break in cotton, also contributed to the growth of bearish sentiment. The absence of any large volume of forced liquidation and an advance in the prices of fall goods by the American Woolen Co., were the bright spots in the day's proceedings.

Montana Power Feature.
Montana Power was the sensational individual performer, dipping 4 points to 14 1/2. The selling movement and then bounding upward to a new record high at 15 1/2 on the urgent retreat of the short interest. Bayuk Cigars soared 1 1/2 points to a new peak at 12 1/2 and then eased off 1 1/2. Brooklyn Edison jumped more than 5 points to a new top at 130 and Columbia Gas, Federal Light and Traction, Pacific Gas and Peoples Gas all moved at net gains of a point or more.

On the other hand, Midland Steel Products preferred broke 15 points to 22 1/2, as against a recent high of 29, and rebounded to 25. American Republics collapsed nearly 8 points and rallied 4 1/2, and Adams Express, American Machine & Foundry, Case Threshing, International Silver, Matheson Alkali, and Wilson Co. preferred showed net declines of 4 to nearly 7 points.

United States Steel common dipped to 14 1/4 and rallied to 14 3/4, but it reacted a point on realizing. With the first 53 railroads to report their December earnings showing an average decline of 11.3 per cent in net operating income, there was little speculative enthusiasm for those shares. Texas & Pacific duplicated the year's high and Illinois Central showed a moderate gain on buying influenced by the reported increase in the value of its Chicago realty holdings. Chesapeake & Ohio, Missouri Pacific common, and St. Louis common lost 2 points or more.

Foreign exchange rates were slightly receding. Sterling cables easing still further to 44.7-44.8. Continental rates ruled a point or two lower. Cotton opened higher, broke violently and then rallied briskly to close at net gains of 10 to 20 points on the day. Wheat prices eased fractionally.

GIRL SAVED FROM ICY WATERS

Boy Dives to Her Aid, Human Chain" Pulls Them to Bank.

By the Associated Press.

MANTOWOC, Wis., Jan. 30.—A human chain and the courage of a boy saved the life of 16-year-old Ludmilla Wodochowicz of Two Rivers, when she broke through thin ice over East Twin River Saturday.

Francis Lonzo, youth who heard the girl scream, dove into the icy water. He grasped her and clung to a jagged edge of ice until help arrived. The first to arrive were Frank Lonzo, father of Francis, and Chester Thiede. They lay on the ice. Lonzo grasped Thiede's ankle and Thiede worked his way to the hole. Ice cracked under them, but held while the girl was pulled from the water. Then Francis managed to clamber out.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Dr. Copeland Says:

"Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to any cathartic compounds. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. In their effects upon the bowel and its lining membranes they are far less irritating. Indeed, many have qualities that make them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, which may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste."

BORAH'S QUERIES KEEP WET AND DRY ISSUE TO THE FORE

Open Letter to Senator Curtis First of Series to Bring Out Candidates' Position.

DEMOCRATS SHORT OF BONE DRY CANDIDATES

Charges of Political Corruption May Play Larger Part in Campaign of Opponents of G. O. P.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The possibility of prohibition becoming more active in the presidential contests of both parties was suggested by developments of last week. Republicans had managed to keep the question somewhat dormant until Senator Borah started a series of open letters to Republican presidential figures demanding to know where they stood on prohibition enforcement.

His first letter, to Senator Curtis of Kansas, brought the prompt and unequivocal reply to be expected of a bone-dry Senator from a bone-dry State. When he addresses Senator Willis of Ohio, the same prompt, decisive answer may be expected. There is no better friend of the Anti-Saloon League in the Senate than Willis.

Secretary Hoover said in an economic report some time ago that prosperity in the United States in recent years could be attributed in part at least to the benefits of prohibition. That is all that is publicly known about his position on prohibition. Dawes and Lowden are not on record so far as this correspondent can recall.

Another Issue for Reed.

On the Democratic side, launching of Senator James A. Reed's campaign for the nomination promises to direct attention again to this popular subject of American conversation. Reed is labeled by the Anti-Saloon League as a wet. Yet it was Reed who introduced the bill back in the war days which made the District of Columbia dry. Reed opposed the Missouri wet referendum in 1924. Anti-Reed dries have some explanations of these matters and find little in them to change their opinion of Reed. So the Democrats are in the position of having their two most dominant national figures classed as wets by the Anti-Saloon League. There are no bone-dry Democrats in the presidential race except favorite son and local candidates. But Reed most emphatically urges that prohibition be kept out of the Democratic fight. He told the Jackson day dinner that the party was widely divided and if everyone insisted in having his way it would be ruinous. So that on prohibition Reed is willing to abide by the pronouncements of the convention. His own campaign will be directed not at prohibition, but at corruption, a subject on which he has become expert by his Pennsylvania and Illinois primary investigations.

Much to Discredit G. O. P.

Many politicians think corruption will be a stronger issue for the Democrats this year than it was in 1924. That campaign came just after the Teapot Dome and Daugherty investigations, but before there had been any proceedings in the courts. Republicans were accusing the Democrats of political persecution. Since then the United States Supreme Court has cancelled the Teapot Dome and Daugherty cases and denounced those transactions and the conduct of former Secretary Fall in language as severe as any Democratic Senator ever employed. Democratic stump orators expect to make considerable use of the Supreme Court decisions this year. With corruption as an issue, Reed is the most qualified spokesman of all Democratic possibilities except, perhaps, Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana, a dry Catholic, the investigator of Teapot Dome. Walsh threw new fuel on the oil scandals last week by forcing from Fall's son-in-law, M. T. Everhart, the admission that he received from Harry F. Sinclair $212,000 in Liberty Bonds, a few weeks after the Teapot Dome deal was closed.

Smith's Strength Undecided.

Democrats have heard the religious issue raised again in the Senate by Senator Heflin of Alabama.

It is too early to judge what the effect of Heflin's activity will be upon the chances of Gov. Smith.

Smith's friends in New York are engaged in high-pressure missionary work for the Teapot denunciation, feeling that the support of the State in which the convention is held would have a strong psychological effect on other Southern delegations. Gov. Moody was mentioned as a possible running mate with Smith, but quickly indicated he was not interested and preferred to run for Governor again.

So the New York Democrats, never at a loss in any political situation, promptly hailed Jesse H. Jones of Houston, the man who landed the convention, as good vice-presidential timber on a Smith ticket.

At Work for Hoover.

The fact that the Hoovers were married by a Catholic missionary priest in a California village 20 years ago was hailed by Hoover's enemies as a great political discovery.

ery. Mrs. Hoover was an Episcopalian before her marriage and afterward joined the Quaker church, to which her husband had always belonged. Hoover was a young engineer of 25 then, ordered to sail for China the next day.

A group of New York Republicans set up a Hoover organization this week, but without the support of New York National Committee-men Hilles and State Chairman Morris. Senator Gillett of Massachusetts has endorsed Hoover, and his campaign has been opened in Minnesota. Hoover himself continued the silence which has made his campaign one of the most remarkable in national political history.

AIRMAN SAVED FROM SHARKS

Dropped Into Sea. MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 30.—Lieut. H. Quiller, noted parachute jumper who jumped from an airplane into the sea at Bondi Beach, Sydney, and then drifted out to sea, was rescued yesterday after floundering for more than an hour in shark-infested waters.

Quiller was giving an exhibition before 12,000 spectators when his mishap occurred. A surf boat hurried out to rescue him, but could not locate him and it was feared for a time that he was lost. News of his rescue did not reach here until today.

WHITEHEAD BESPEAKS FREE BIDDING IN BRIDGE

Expert Says Frequently Player
With Good Hand Gives Way to Weak Partner.

By E. ROY ALEXANDER.
The essence of successful auction bridge play is free bidding, the only means by which partners may interchange information about their hands. Wilbur C. Whitehead, international bridge expert, declared Saturday in his final St. Louis appearance.

"Partners don't bid half enough," he told more than 100 women who attended a luncheon at the Congress Hotel under the auspices of Mrs. Fred Ullman. "Frequently a bridge player with a good hand will give away weakly when his partner bids, content to let the partner take the contract."

"In every case of that kind further bidding will bring the partners to a more satisfactory contract. If you have a hand on which you would bid against your partner, bid it against your partner until you are satisfied that he knows what you hold. It is obvious, however, that such bidding is to be limited by the possibilities of your hand. I should be the last to advise you to run your partner up to a high contract just to tell him that you had certain holdings which meant little or nothing in the first place."

Demonstrates His Point.
Whitehead demonstrated his point by a sample hand in which North, with good holdings in both diamonds and clubs, first bid diamonds in support of a no-trumper by his partner, South. On a second round, with adversaries bidding, he declared his club suit.

Because of adversaries' persistence South was forced from his no-trumper, but the effort of North to interchange information by bidding enabled South to choose between clubs and diamonds. South chose clubs and went five-odd for game. Had North been content to subside after bidding diamonds, South would have taken the bid at diamonds, but would have made only four-odd.

"Remember," said Whitehead, in recapitulating the points of the hand, "in bridge you play 26 cards, your own 13 and your partner's 13. Your first effort must be to give your partner every bit of information you can give him without violating the fundamental principles of sound bidding. At the same time your partner must be making the same effort. In a sense you are bidding against each other. It is only when you have exhausted the possibilities of your hand that you begin to bid against your opponents."

Cardinal Principle of Bidding.
Once again Whitehead stressed the cardinal principle of his bidding system, namely, that, for first or second hand original bid, declarer must have two quick tricks, plus the probability of two additional tricks in trumps.

"Now, with that principle in mind," he went on, "what would you bid on first or second hand, if you held, say, nine spades, topped with queen-jack, but no side suit?"

There were chorused responses of bids ranging from one to three spades.

"I would pass that bid myself," the lecturer said. "Think any good player would. In the first place, it doesn't fit the standard that every expert player now follows—two quick tricks plus the probability of two more in trumps."

"In the second place, with a long holding of that kind and no side strength, someone else is going to have the rest of the strength of the deck. The chances are two to one the strength will be with your opponents, since there are two of them and you have only one partner."

"So that opponents are likely to bid. If they don't, your partner will. You can then come in with your long spade bid, knowing where the strength lies. Consequently, your opponents may think you are bidding a thin suit and may double you at three or four. What a superb chance for extra tricks that makes you!"

Judge Says Politics No Place for Wife

A PUBLIC office is no place for a married woman, in the opinion of Judge Allen C. Southern of the Kansas City (Mo.) Circuit Court.

Judge Southern expressed his view of the matter when he refused to grant a divorce to Mrs. Ethel C. Cummings, former secretary of the Kansas Public Service Commission.

"Whenever the wife participates actively in politics and in holding public office she has instituted a regime which is incompatible with domestic relations," Judge Southern declared.

"It cannot be done. It is just as incompatible as church and state. Co-operation of church and state is fatal to government and the attempted mixture of a public career in politics by a wife is fatal in the home."

Carrot Marmalade.

Two cups finely cut cooked carrots, four cups granulated sugar, two oranges and two lemons; put through the grinder, rind and pulp. Put in preserving kettle and cook until clear and thick, stirring occasionally to prevent scorching. Pour into sterilized jars and seal when cold.

CHIC CHERIE

"My dear," carols Cherie to the telephone, "I'm just going shopping. I'll be back early. Do come for tea." And having disposed of Edwin that way she leaves—in a coat that deserves your complete attention for a moment. It's a spring coat that by halving its cape has doubled its smartness—a trifle of Viennese that came from down Paris way.

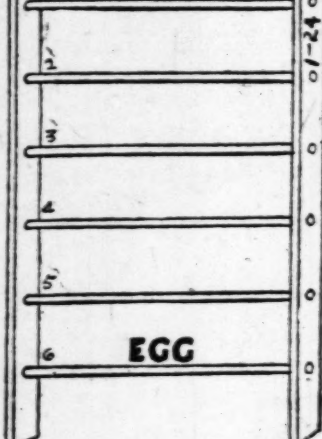

It's long past teatime and neither of them can understand Cherie's indifference to nourishment. It isn't like her. Shall they call the hospitals? Emily is trying to decide and Edwin is trying to help her, not, as you might have thought, admiring her gown of new green sheer crepe with diagonal fagotting and bows of the material.

Dina's coat has a cape, too, and a cape of an unusual sort. It is loose on one side and fastens to the coat on the other with the sleeve slipping through, as you see, on just one side. Even coats follow the asymmetric lines that are chic this spring. No, Dina line. Has she been attending extension classes? No, hasn't the faintest idea where Cherie can be. Have they called the morgue yet?

It's a notebook she's carrying. Being Cherie, she chose a gray one that goes very well with her red frock. The dress has a yoke of beige sheer crepe that is joined to the faile crepe of the dress in a leaf out-symmetric line that is chic this spring. No, Dina line. Has she been attending extension classes? No, hasn't the faintest idea where Cherie can be. Have they called the morgue yet?

Draping Casement Windows Difficult

CASEMENT windows that open inward often present difficulties in regard to draping that sometimes seem insurmountable especially when there is a rather deep recess.

One way to handle the overdrapery is to use a very narrow valance which will interfere little with the swing of the windows. If the windows do not run too near the ceiling, giving that rather high cheerless-lighting effect, the valance can be omitted entirely.

Glass curtains for casement windows are usually put on two rods, top and bottom, and drawn tight. But if you do not like the formal effect of this or dislike shutting out the sky and view, the glass curtains may be differently treated. A thin curtain will be used, of course, but it may be ruffled and looped back, leaving an unobstructed view of the outdoors.

Organic, Swiss and voile are excellent materials for this purpose. As all good shoppers know, it is possible to obtain at moderate prices the sort of Swiss and organic which will retain its crispness after washing, an important item, as this is the very quality essential for this type of curtain.

If, in the treatment of ordinary windows a material is desired which will do away with the necessity of double draperies for a bedroom or other intimate room, the new marquisette will fill the bill. They are being made up with an embroidered spot or polka-dot. These spots are in green, orange, royal blue or red on a ground that is either cream or white.

Other marquisettes to be had by the yard are novel in that they are varied by the use of delicate pink crosshairs, some having flowers in the squares, and by the introduction of plaids and checks into this sheer curtain material.

Stomach Is Often Seat Of Insanity

By Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D.,
Former President of the American Medical Association.

IF you are so unfortunate as to have either a friend or relative who is insane, you probably will know that he or she has symptoms of either stomach or intestinal trouble. This is true in practically 80 per cent if not more, of all cases of both insanity and epilepsy. I make this assertion on the basis of a long professional experience involving some thousands of cases, more particularly of epilepsy.

As long ago as 1893 Pinal said that the primitive seat of insanity was in the region of the stomach and intestines, and that disorder of intelligence propagated itself from the center as "by a species of irradiation."

We now know that very many mental disorders, or "psychoses," are the direct result of infection migrating from the stomach, bowel or even other parts of the body, not by irradiation, but in the circulating blood, and that if the infection is removed by operation or other means, the patient's mind may become perfectly normal.

In the early days of gastric surgery, says Sir Berkeley Moynihan, it was quite common to operate on patients who had been for many years branded as "neurotic." For a long time they had complained of pain after taking food; they had been thin, querulous, ill-tempered and hard to live with, and their dispositions had not been improved by the repeated denial of the reality of their sufferings.

On the operating table they were found to have advanced organic disease of the stomach. All surgeons know how common such patients are.

The lesson is that no one should be condemned as being "neurotic" before it is quite certain that he is not suffering from an organic disorder. Some surgeons hesitate to operate on a patient who is suffering from a grave mental disorder, but what if the patient will not get well without? Sir Berkeley Moynihan makes it a rule never to let a patient suffer or die of one disease because he happens to have another. Out of four patients with severe mental disorder upon whom he has operated for obstruction of the bile duct and chronic infection of the pancreas, three completely recovered their sanity, though many surgeons would have quailed at the idea of operating upon people whose mental condition was so bad.

He once operated upon a distinguished medical man who had to be secluded for two long periods for mental disorder. The patient was suffering from chronic appendicitis and gastric ulcer and regarded the operation with terror. Nevertheless, the routine was followed of removing his bad teeth, a very important point, and the operation was duly performed. That was several years ago and the mind of that doctor has been perfectly clear and strong ever since.

Doctors still want to know much about the septic psychoses; how often mental disease is entirely the result of sepsis; how far sepsis makes worse a mental trouble that is already there; and why it sometimes has no mental effect at all. Nevertheless, what they do know is perfectly clear; that among the ill-effects of local poisoning is to be included mental disorder, and that even grave insanity can often be cured by removing a plague spot from the body.

This concession by a distinguished English surgeon comes as a tardy recognition of a truth that I demonstrated in my own practice and reported repeatedly through professional journals some 20 years ago and later. The practice has since been taken up by various progressive American surgeons and is today carried on with highly gratifying results—a welcome message to a long-neglected class of cases.

MEADOWS WASHING

Here is why it will pay you

Now laundering at home not only saves time, but every week two or three dollars cash. A FREE home test proves it; just phone.

Because the Meadows—the washer that makes water do the work—saves all fabrics.

Anything that can be washed at all can be washed in the Meadows. It's the best way to launder filmy things that used to be saved out for hand-washing. A time saver. And the Meadows man can prove how laundry bills pay for it. A money saver.

Water-washing vs. Paddle-washing.

Folks who spend one-fifty for stockings or two dollars for shirts want them to last. Water-washing is the only way to get full life from clothes.

Washing machines that paddle-wash (use machinery to agitate clothes) won't do for filmy things people wear nowadays. Nor do they wash as clean because all the power doesn't go into water action.

Meadowwashing means water-washing. Hand results without hand rubbing. The best development of three things required of a washer. Speed in washing. Endurance. And ease on clothes—especially the kind people wear nowadays.

The largest washing capacity in the world is stored up in this compact device. It can be handily kept even in an apartment.

Features a mile ahead.

Anyone knows the tub of a washer is vital. Copper tubs have always been prized. Some have thought hard metals more practical. It took Meadows to put a steel shell on a copper tub. And nickel the interior to give lifelong wear and attractiveness.

Let the Meadows man do a FREE week's wash.

Writer Puts Care Of Family First

By Belle Brummel

GRACE DWYER RICHARDSON, Terre Haute, Ind., whose stories have appeared in more than a dozen magazines, recently considered her writing a secondary occupation.

Her principal interest is in her family, and she has a washable of her three sons, the youngest of whom has just entered the service.

"I have to be a mother, and a writer afterwards," she says. "The number of times I have dashed madly from my desk to tend to various details that come anywhere from rendering assistance to a bruised knee or cut finger to the settling of a dispute between the neighbor's dog and the cat, will not bear repetition."

Mrs. Richman has been writing short stories for 12 years.

All Ready to Pour.

I use a large pitcher in order to mix my hot cake or waffle batter. It is much easier to mix uniform cakes and evenly waffles by pouring the batter from a ladle into a cup with a spoon.

When pipes are exposed there is rather a chance of their freezing in zero weather. To prevent this is to mix equal parts of glycerin and paraffin and coat the exposed pipes with this.

What Some New Notables Are

By Belle Brummel

Curves of the figure are accentuated in the silhouette favored by Mrs. Edward McLean. The dress is a washable one-piece dress, cut with a high neckline and fitted waist.

Harris M. Crist sponsors a new version of the Princess. It is a semi-fitted dress of flowy, clinging fabric.

A note from a Palm Beach friend tells us that two and three kebab accompaniment is reported about head, shoulders, and hips.

J. Gordon says a new square printed child with her mother, Mrs. "Fin" Corman.

Herbert, of cubistic design, is a new two-piece kasha suit. Mrs. Reginald Hiscoe matches her figured georgette afternoon dress with a kerchief of the same material.

Smart folk who are still in the North turn to Long Island for their new, the country, and is filled with society people, and the springlike weather of the past week.

Woods in pastel shades continue to lead in popularity. Separate parts favor, matched by wool and mittens. The tweed suits are accompanied by jumpers of wool jersey, suede and cashmere.

Returning to Firenze, Col. Robert von Habsburg's estate, Sunday, we saw many ensembles of periwinkle, a few of heliotrope and one of billiard green.

Shades of bronze and gold are noted by Fanny Hurst for the new ensemble worn beneath her skin, shiny, mon-

Writer Puts Care
Of Family First

RACE DWYER RICHM of Terre Haute, Ind., whose short stories have appeared in more than a dozen magazines, nevertheless considers her writing a second, secondary occupation.

Her principal interest is in devotion to her family, and the rearing of her three sons, the youngest of whom has just entered kindergarten.

"I have to be a mother first and a writer afterward," she said. "The number of times I have dashed madly from my desk to attend to various details that range anywhere from rendering first aid to a bruised knee or cut finger to the settling of a dispute between the neighbor's dog and the family cat, will not bear repetition."

Mrs. Richm has been writing short stories for 12 years.

All Ready to Pour.

I use a large pitcher in which to mix my hot cake or waffle batter. It is much easier to make uniform cakes and evenly baked waffles by pouring the batter than by ladling it out with a dipper or spoon.

What Some New York
Notables Are Wearing

By Belle Brummel

Curves of the figure are accentuated in the silhouette favored by fashion for the coming season. Mrs. Edward McLean Palm Beach wears a washable one-piece dress, cut with wide lapels and full waist.

Harris M. Crist sponsors a complete sports frock belted at a normal waistline by a wide silk sash, and Miss Heutlein favors a version of the Princess dress—a semi-fitted dress of flowing chiffon.

From a Palm Beach friend comes the news that now and then a woman is spotted about the head, shoulders and hips.

J. Gordon, of the country, wears a square printed chiffon with her hat. Mrs. "Fin" Dunlap Hopkins, of cubistic design, wears a two-piece kasha suit.

Mrs. Reginald Hiscow matches her figured georgette with a kerchief of the same pattern.

Smart folk who are still in the South turn to Long Island for their winter wardrobe. Just now, the country is filled with society people who are dressed for the springlike weather of the past week.

Veils in pastel shades continue to lead in popularity. Separately, they find favor, matched by wool and mittens. The tweed suits are accompanied by jumpers of the wool jersey, suede and cashmere.

According to Firenze, Col. Robert McLean's estate, Sunday, we saw many ensembles of periwinkle and a few of heliotrope and one of billiard green.

Shades of bronze and gold are favored by Fanny Hurst for the ensemble worn beneath her shiny, monochrome skin coat.

Two pieces of crepe are in place by gold belt. Her ensemble is handed with a hat and she completes her costume with a pair of brown reptile skin shoes and laces.

Two tiny shoes, those that always accompany Miss Hurst, obligingly choose brown and beige for their winter wardrobe.

Vivid scarlet crepe formed the ensemble worn by Luciana Bort at the Bagby Musical. A novel feature of the frock were sleeves fitted tightly to the elbow line and flaring from the wrist to the deep points which touched the hem or her gown.

She wore a close fitting turban in two shades of red and very long pendant earrings of red gold.

Silks and velvets developed in white and pastel shades graced the dinner and reception held for Lieut. Leigh Wade, Sunday evening. Mrs. Rufus King presided over the dinner in a white velvet evening gown faced with flesh pink georgette and cut with a deep V decolletage.

Mrs. Dunlap Hopkins, who gave the reception held after the dinner, sponsored white and silver for her costume, cut simply along the molded lines, so fashionable at the moment.

Street and evening clothes were equally favored at Galsworthy's play, "The Silver Box." Several ermine wraps bordered with the little black tails of the ermine were chosen by women who wore beaded chiffon gowns.

Subdued colors prevailed at the Reinhardt opening of "Kabale und Liebe." Grays and off white shades predominated. For wraps, chinchilla and metal cloth were emphasized. Otto Kahn furnished a bright spot with his flashlight cane. His daughter, Margaret, wrapped in a gold lame coat trimmed in sable, accompanied him.

Fashions on opening nights have been varied. Lighter colored velvets and chiffons were sponsored at "Diversion." Several instances of velvet slippers matching the gowns in color were worn.

Jane Cowell wore a dinner frock of yellow chiffon partially concealed beneath a wrap of gold tissue lined with orange velvet.

Wool half socks are a novelty featured by the younger set at Palm Beach. Bordered with colors which match the frock, they are worn on the beach and for tennis.

The Fox sisters, Constance and Genevieve, choose bordered socks to match their striped sweaters.

Molnar, Famous European Dramatist, Discusses Companionate Marriage

FERENC MOLNAR

There Is Really Nothing New About It, He Says for It Has Long Been Practiced Without Being Much of a Success.

FERENC MOLNAR, the distinguished Hungarian author, is chiefly famous in the United States through his dramatic works. For many years thousands of American theatergoers have been enthralled and delighted by plays from his gifted pen. For instance, "The Devil," "Lilium," "The Sicilian," "The Guardsman" and "The Play's the Thing." His eminence as a dramatist is secure on both sides of the Atlantic.

When he arrived in the United States a few weeks ago, however, Molnar declared, proudly, "I am still a newspaper man." At various times in his successful career he has been a court reporter, society editor, editorial writer and war correspondent, and while his greatest fame has come to him through his writings for the stage he has retained his viewpoint of life as a journalist.

By FERENC MOLNAR.

To learn about the new invention called "companionate marriage" it was not necessary for me to come to America. I had read so many columns about it in the newspapers of Europe that, if anyone took the trouble to collect all of these stories and print them in books, he would find himself the owner of a huge library. And I had read just as many other stories about another invention before I left Europe.

This other invention is the Russian Professor Theremin's brilliant discovery. He produces musical sounds out of the air with the aid of electrical waves. (As I write this he is preparing to demonstrate his epochal discovery in New York.) The tones which these electrical waves sing in the air without the aid of any musical instrument are very beautiful. They resemble the beautiful human singing voice, and even the most beautiful tones of the organ.

What is this new Theremin music? It is the independent life of musical tones without a musical instrument. And what is companionate marriage? It aims to be the same thing; music without an instrument.

Why isn't there some specific, new, really American conception of marriage? Why do the explorers of this problem grope about within the most European, the most conservative boundaries when they contemplate this momentous question?

Why does there not originate here some delivering, erudite and startling new idea?

Why are they satisfied with an ephemeral, more amusing than practical, new notion now and again? Why the patchwork? Why not creation?

Nothing New About It

IN our Hungary there is a widely known old anecdote, which, it seems to me, fits into this picture admirably. A pretty peasant woman once came to the office of an excellent lawyer. He asked her what she wanted.

"I have come," said the woman, "to ask you to separate me from my husband. The reason I have come to you, the most famous lawyer in the country, is because I have already seen ten lawyers and not one of them would take my case."

"Is it such a difficult case?" asked the lawyer.

"Yes," answered the woman. "My husband deceives me and gives me no money. He is always drunk, abuses me, doesn't come home for days. Recently he even beat me."

"Why, this is just marvelous," said the lawyer. "There is nothing easier than to persuade the court to grant you a decree of divorce after such goings-on!"

The woman began to cry and said softly:

"Yes, but there is one difficulty. We are not legally married."

The reason I have told this little tale is that I am not convinced that the poor peasant woman is one of those who long ago discovered "companionate marriage."

And there are many other discoveries I have also discovered. If I remember correctly what I read about it, "companionate marriage" is simply a legal marriage from which the courageous innovators have eliminated domesticity. The couple live a married life without living together and without indulging in other similar inconvenient overtones of bliss.

Then later, after their experience will have proved that they really understand each other and motherhood, friendship, fidelity, self-sacrifice. Playing with all that the really great thinkers and moralists of humanity have pictured as beautiful in the marriage state, whenever they defended that institution against the innovators!

I cannot deny that, together with many other things, de-nicotinized cigarettes come to my mind whenever I hear about this new-fangled marriage. Efforts to take nicotine out of tobacco have been completely successful, and it is now possible to buy completely de-nicotinized cigarettes and cigars.

I was already smoking these when I read a very convincing article by a learned Berlin scientist, in which he explained that it is not the NIKOTINE which is harmful to the human constitution, but the many other things which are left in the tobacco even after the extraction of the nicotine.

Well, then, is it worth while to smoke bad tasting straw? And who can say with certainty that it is just the living together, the sharing of an apartment, which is dangerous to marriage? Who knows whether innovators are not just extracting the aroma from two young people's lives and leaving behind the real poison?

Machine-Made Matrimony.

IT has long been my conviction that mechanical inventions and their great development have given us a new and valuable aid to the solution of the great moral questions of humanity. Can anyone deny that ever since the police have been using the telephone, the radio and newspaper publicity, it is much more difficult to elude the long arm of justice than it was before?

The telegraphed photograph of the criminal and the telephoned account of his crime are sure to be everywhere before he himself can outdistance his local pursuers. Haven't these inventions been of greater benefit to humanity than any wise and excellent new criminological theory? And the invention, God forbid, of completely soundless gunpowder would release an infinite series of criminal instincts.

Let us just remember an insignificant bit of truth. How much more difficult the invention of the telephone has made the lives of ladies inclined toward marital infidelity! Let us recall those amorous, adventurous novels of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, written before the invention of the telephone. How much easier a time had women had of it then! And if it be permitted to use such little things as a runway from which to release our fantasy into space, isn't it imaginable that the innovations in transit and building, the new inventions in aid of house-keeping, a more developed industrial life, more systematic allotment of labor, medical and hygienic innovations, some newer and more perfect method of bringing up chil-

HOW TO WIN A MAN

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE GOLDEN VOICE

CANNOT sufficiently impress upon you the importance of the voice in the acquiring of "It."

I am particularly struck by something I had to hear on a train yesterday. Two very attractive-looking women got into the Pullman and took the two seats behind me. During a five hours' journey one of them never ceased talking. She was extremely pretty, even beautiful, and by the casual glance one is able to give as people pass one, I should have said she had every attraction—but after an hour of the ceaseless flow of words, clipped and mispronounced, and spoken in tones of a rasping shrillness—yes, it could be heard above the noise of the train—all I desired was to gag the lady!

Now think what an effect this would have had upon a tired man. This lovely creature could never project "It," no matter how perfect she may have been in any other respect. At the end of the journey I felt tired, and I am sure her companion did also. She had not been given a chance to utter a word!

So our Mary, out to acquire "It," must remember that to chatter ceaselessly, no matter how amusing you may be, may make people laugh at first, but will certainly wear them soon. So I do advise her to notice if she has this habit of jabbering in trains about nothing in particular, just to make a noise, hear her own voice and "keep things going"—if a ruthless probing conscience her that she has this tiring fault, let her stop it at once.

Speak only when you have something interesting to say, and let others have a chance to express their thoughts also—and above all things, attend to your tones. Try to listen to yourself as you speak, once or twice—you will then immediately realize what I mean and be able to judge whether or no you have an attractive pronunciation. No squeaky voice is attractive—no monotonous voice is attractive—no voice with too much emphasis is attractive. The tones should express what the words mean, and be well pronounced and euphonious. Deep magnetic voices are a potent charm—and filled with the "It" lure, so if it takes you a year, Mary, acquire one, always remembering it is hard work—but you cannot have "It" unless your notes are alluring, and your words full of grace.

The next article will be printed Thursday.

ing to salvation. But on the important question of marriage reform, so many well meaning and sage thinkers have compromised themselves that, like the proverbial drowning man, one grabs even at a straw.

I consider the happiness-bringing change of the technique of life and of living together such a straw. It is nothing more. We cannot expect it to bring more than a slight improvement. But by all means I expect it to be more efficacious than the invention called "companionate marriage." About the latter I cannot admit more than that it is a non-dangerous game with a dangerous question, a cigarette without tobacco, divorce without marriage.

And here before I close I must return for a moment to my starting point. I began by saying that this variety of marriage AIMS TO BE the same as the Russian inventor's discovery; music without an instrument. Now I can tell you that it only AIMS to be that, but it is INCAPABLE of being that. As it stands now, it has succeeded in being just the opposite; an instrument without music.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention. Except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

A. J. D. — The City Water Department, City Hall, can probably tell you what is best to be done for water contaminated by sewage from the roof.

B. L. S. — Sketches furnished by press services of the lives of prominent men do not give a description of their physical characteristics.

KELLY H. — Business addresses are listed in this column, as it is not an advertising medium. No doubt the public stenographer at the St. Louis Public Library, or any public stenographer, would give the list for you from the telephone directory at regular rates. If you write her.

ORVILLE B. — Linotype operators spend five years as apprentices, the last six months of which are given to actual operating of the machine. Schools are in the East and South, for which see the local typographical union as listed in the telephone directory, asking them about pay while learning.

A POLICE OFFICER.—Only the Governor of New York State has pardoning power in the case mentioned. Such aliens are refused citizenship, but often than they are granted it.

INQUISITIVE.—The widow would become the sole owner in the case outlined, regardless of the will.

J. C. M.—For pension for the blind inquire at the Illinois Commission for the Blind, Metropolitan Building, Grand and Olive streets.

DUMB DORA.—You can claim your furniture as exempt from seizure for rent. If you have any trouble go to the Legal Aid Bureau in Municipal Courts Bldg., Fourteenth and Market streets.

M. G.—Whether or not a person who claimed exemption during the war on the grounds of not being a citizen is eligible for naturalization would depend somewhat upon the circumstances, and upon the view of the particular Judge who heard the application. Such aliens are refused citizenship, but often than they are granted it.

JAY TEE BEL.—To purchase a permit from the Circuit Clerk, at the Court House. The cost is 50 cents. For permission to enter St. Louis inquire at the City Clerk's office, there.

CITIZEN.—You can become a citizen, but the process is not quick, since you have been naturalized. Inquire at the naturalization office, in the Custom House, Eighth and Olive streets.

RYAN.—Authorities can file suit and seal the farm for the taxes. They usually wait until the fifth year that taxes have been delinquent before filing suit. Write to the Collector at St. Charles.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

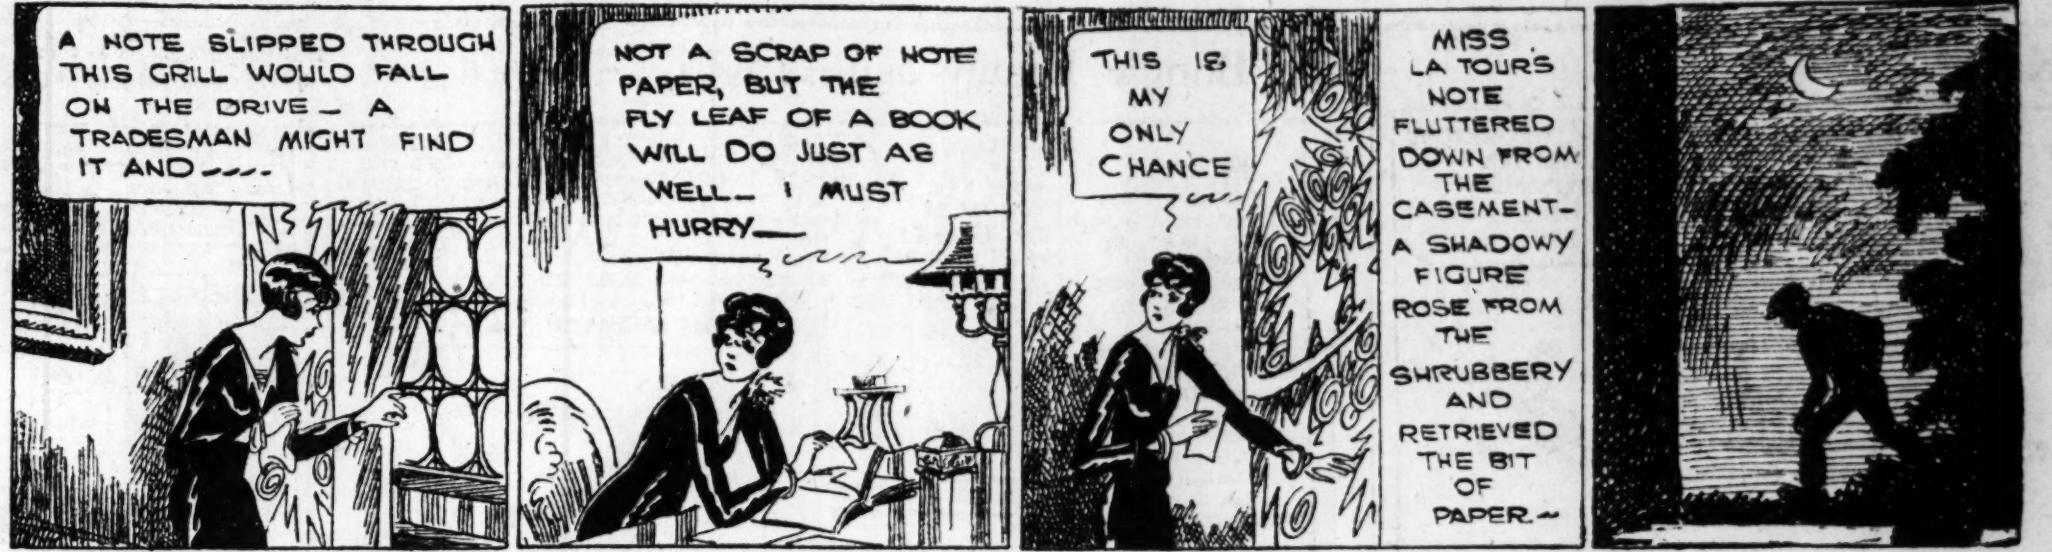

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

A. R.—The advice given A. C., which you ask about, is recommended for your case.

J. R.—Your trouble may be ulceration of the stomach, and if so proper treatment includes diet and other measures. You may send stamped addressed envelope for a diet if you like, referring to "J. R." COOLIDGE FAVORS NO REDUCTION IN 1928 TAX RATHER THAN TOO MUCH Stresses Wisdom of Keeping Expenditures Within Receipts—Debt Payment Means Lower Levy.

URGES BUREAU TO CONTINUE ECONOMY

Executive Addressing Business Organization of Government Cites Need of National Defense.

20-25 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Coolidge reminded Congress last night that he favored reduction of the National debt rather than excessive reduction of taxes. Speaking before the fourteenth semi-annual meeting of the Business Organization of the Government, the President said: "It is far better to have no tax reduction than to have too much. We have the public debt to which to apply every dollar of whatever surplus may accrue. That indirectly is tax reduction. Every dollar applied to the debt saves perpetually the interest on that dollar. It is a contribution to the welfare of the people a logical step nearer adequate tax reduction."

The President viewed the work of the Budget Bureau for the last seven years and found it good. He stated that, as the result of "constructive economy," expenditures during the fiscal year ended last June were the lowest since the war. He urged the members of the business organization to keep up their good work, although expenditures for the current year would necessarily be greater than those of last year.

Moderate Reduction Only.
Commenting on the prospects for a tax reduction, this year, the President said: "I have expressed myself in favor of further moderate tax reduction. I have indicated the maximum reduction we can now afford. There was no partisan thought in that recommendation. I hope there will be none in its final consideration by the Congress. We should not depart from the wise policy established, and thus far rightly followed, of keeping our expenditures within our receipts. That I had in mind in making my recommendation. It has made a rich contribution to the present splendid financial status of the country. It has enabled us to hire money at a lower rate than any other business in the world. It has been effective in the maintenance of prosperity. It has the hearty endorsement of the tax payers. That policy of a balanced budget—expenditures within receipts—must not be molested. The great good which has come to this country from a balanced budget is too measureless, too far-reaching, even to suggest any other course. This nation is neither too weak nor too impoverished to meet its obligations as they occur."

Problems to Be Met.
The budget for 1933, which foresees a surplus of $252,540,000, is now before the Congress. The action so far taken by the Congress on that budget indicates no intention of diminishing the expected surplus. With continuation of the efforts for economy in Federal operations we can have a moderate reduction in taxes and at the same time adequately meet the urgent national problems which are now confronting us. Past economy has given us the means for internal improvements and developments and more adequate national defense. But we cannot afford the cost of the things which we should and must have if we adopt excessive tax reduction."

The "moderate tax reduction" referred to by the President was the $255,000,000 cut recommended by the Treasury Department, which was exceeded by the House when it voted for a $299,000,000 reduction. The action of the House irritated Senate administration leaders so much that they forced the Senate Finance Committee to vote to withhold action on the revenue bill after March 15. More for "National Defense."
President Coolidge outlined to budget officials the reasons why appropriations would be larger this year. "A large source of expense
